Carl W. Morris To Run For 38th District Post

ROMULUS — Carl W. Morris, 54, president of the Romulus Community Schools' Board of Education and Wayne County Intermediate School District Monday announced his candidacy for State Representative for the 38th Michigan Legislative District.

Morris, life-long resident of the Romulus Community and one of its prominent community leaders as well as one of Michigan's top educationalists will compete for the post against incumbent Edward E. Mahalak (D-Romulus) who has also announced a re-election bid.

The 38th District embraces the cities of Romulus and Belleville and the townships of Huron, Sumpter and Van Buren in Wayne County, and the following townships in Monroe County: Ash, Berlin, Dundee, Dexter, Ida, London, Milan, Raisinville and Summerfield.

In announcing his candidacy, Morris said:

"I am announcing my candidacy for State Representative in the 38th District. As a life-long resident of this district, I feel familiar with its problems.

"Am presently serving as President of the Wayne County Intermediate District and the Romulus Community Schools Board of Education. Am a member of the Wayne County 4-H Fair Association, the Wayne County Elections Screening Committee, a charter member of the Romulus Kiwanis Club and church trustee at the United Methodist Church of Romulus.

"I have served on various commissions such as Appeal Board, Planning Commission and Recreation Commission in Romulus.

"The 38th District is a rapidly changing area, adding new cities (such as the City of Romulus) and possible future changes in Van Buren Township and the City of Belleville. It is an area that is becoming dynamic.

"The population explosion, the change-over from an agrarian to an urban area brings many complex problems. With my 22 years of public service, I hope to be able to serve the 38th District for the next two years."

Morris was born in

CARL W. MORRIS

Romulus and is the fourth generation of a Romulus family that dates back to 1847. He resides at 13599 Huron River Dr.

He and his wife, Beulah, are parents of four children. They are:

Thomas Morris, 25, a graduate of Michigan State University and currently a member of the armed services stationed at Vietnam; Donald Morris, 23, a junior executive at the Detroit office of the Manufacturers National Bank; Larry Morris, 20, a junior student at Michigan State University; and Jane, 16, who just finished her sophomore year at Romulus Senior High School.

Morris graduated from Romulus Senior High School and also attended Michigan State Normal College, now Eastern Michigan University.

Among his other activities are: Vice President of Wayne County Association of School Boards and next in line for its presidency. Federal Legislative Agent for the Michigan Association of School Boards with work assignments in Washington, D.C. on special legislation.

Sign Ordinance Fails To Get OK

ROMULUS — The adoption of a proposed Sign Ordinance setting up regulations for the displaying and removing of political signs failed to get City Council's approval at council's June 11 meeting.

The ordinance would have required those seeking elective offices in the future to post a $50 cash bond to assure the removal of their political signs 10 days after an election.

Upon failure to do so, the city's Department of Public Works would remove the signs and its expense in doing so would be taken out of the bond.

The proposed ordinance wouldn't apply to posting of political signs on private property.

Councilman Ellis T. Pennington had initiated the motion calling of the ordinance with enforcement throughout the city and cash bond depositing.

Police Checking Speeding Beefs

ROMULUS — Police Chief Jacob J. Koch was instructed by City Council June 11 to investigate complaints about motorists and hot rod drivers' speeding and causing excessive noise in some areas of the city.

Councilman Brooker R. Edwards requested of his council colleagues to have Police check and eliminate if at all possible areas of hot rod driving. He cited Pennsylvania and Middlebelt Rds., area as one site.

Residents attending council meeting also requested that a check be made on motorcycles in a reckless and noisy manner. One citizen demanded the signs be posted on speed limits.

Council was told that they could limit or set speed limits in city residential areas.

The police chief was then asked to investigate and report back to council.

Mrs. Wiseley Clarifies First Grade Presentation

NEW BOSTON — Mrs. Pat Wiseley this week clarified the proposed transition group program for first graders in the Huron School District.

Last week's issue of the Romulus Roman incorrectly characterized the program a "non-traditional."

Mrs. Wiseley said, "All of the early elementary teachers were agreed as to the need for a level I or a transition group between kindergarten and first grade, but as far as such a program being 'non-traditional' that is absurd.

"I presented this program to the board and was asked by one board member specifically if this would be traditional and I answered by saying, 'Yes, it is traditional. All materials being used will be traditional.'"

She added, "In fact, it should not be any different

Ball Draws Over 400

ROMULUS — An Inaugural Ball for the newly elected legislative and administrative officials of the City of Romulus was a tremendous success.

The ball, the first inaugural ball in the history of Romulus community drew capacity crowds of community leaders, business and professionals, area governmental leaders politicians, candidate supporters, residents, friends and guests.

Between 350 to 450 persons paid $2.50 admission tickets to the affair.

The inaugural ball was held at the Romulus Progressive Hall, 11580 Ozga Rd., near Five Points, and was held in the honor and inauguration of the following elected city officials, who will govern the affairs of Romulus City until 1973. They are:

Hyle J. Carmichael, mayor; Leonard J. Folmar, city clerk; Albert Glinski, city treasurer; and the following city councilmen; Jimmie Raspberry, William M. Oakley, James C. Stewart, Ellis T. Pennington, Fred Junior Block, Brooker R. Edwards and Edmund W. Bizek.

Among officials representing area communities and in attendance were Senator William Faust, Mayor Royce E. Smith of Belleville, Edward C. Stoelton, supervisor of Van Buren Township.

Romulus Homeowners Set Annual Meet Election

ROMULUS — The Romulus Homeowners Association will hold their Annual Meeting and Election of Officers, tomorrow at 7:30 PM in the Romulus Junior High School Gymnasium.

The previous year has shown a remarkable change in the Association, and its activities.

Membership has grown from just over 100 to over 400 now. Social activities have been successfully introduced, such as the Annual Summer Picnic and the Annual Fall Dance.

More on the business side of the association. The constitution was revised and up-dated, an Open Forum involving the School Board and Township officials was held, and last but not least, "Candidates Night for 43" gave the voters a chance to look and hear candidates for the new City of Romulus.

During the last 12 months, Association Officers and Board of Directors worked hard to fulfill the purpose of the association — "Civic Betterment", and they are sure that the new officers and board will even do better.

The agenda for the annual meeting is as follows: Nominations, a full report on the last year's activities, and the election of the new officers and board of directors.

If your membership has expired, or you wish to join, memberships will be taken before the meeting begins.

Members MUST show a current membership card in order to receive a ballot.

Council Approves Transfer Of Car

ROMULUS — A 1967 Ford model car used as an official car by the former township administration has been transferred to the Urban Renewal Office by City Council.

The car's cost of $1,150, less $138 repair bill, will be paid out of UR Fund and the money transferred to the city's general fund.

ACCIDENT DAMAGE — A Fire Department vehicle from Romulus was struck and damaged while on a run June 10. The car was hit by a motorist attempting to make a left turn into his driveway on Wayne Rd. south of Van Born Rd. Fire Chief Joseph J. Crova, who was driving the fire department car, was not injured. Wayne County Sheriff's Road Patrol lodged a violation against the motorist for failing to yield the right-of-way.

Huron Voters Select Mrs. Palmiter, Hartsuff

NEW BOSTON — The two candidates who were actively supported by the conservative Huron Township Citizens Committee were elected to serve as trustees on the Huron

Board of Education last week.

Elected were Mrs. Harley (Erma) Palmiter of 32150 Prescott, Romulus and Harry Hartsuff of 21850 Bell Rd. New Boston.

The election of Mrs. Palmiter and Hartsuff caused the defeat of incumbent Board members Ralph V. Dugan of 38858 Ellis, New Boston and Rene F. Campeau of 32230 Sibley, Romulus.

Dugan and Campeau ran third and fourth behind Mrs. Palmiter who lead and Hartsuff who was second.

The election results were in doubt for a time the evening of the election as initial tallies showed a tie between Hartsuff and Dugan for the second position.

However, it later learned that there had been an error in arithmetic, and that Hartsuff beat Dugan by six votes.

The results are as follows: Mrs. Palmiter, 401; Hartsuff, 336; Dugan, 328; Campeau, 270; Lincoln Ward II, 138; and James Pershing, 135.

Mrs. Palmiter and Hartsuff are both new to public office.

Mrs. Palmiter stressed her background as a teacher in her campaign, while Hartsuff put the stress on his concern as a parent.

In addition to the trustee race, the Huron voters approved the transfer of approximately $8,000 from a paid-up debt retirement fund into a building and sites fund.

The vote total was 431 in favor of the transfer, with 252 opposed.

The new Board members will join the Board at the July 6th organizational meeting.

Rush Forsees Huron Unity

NEW BOSTON — Carl Rush, president of the Huron Board of Education, this week said that he foresees that the present Board members, along with the two new trustees, will work together.

"We are all going to work together in the coming year for the benefit of our children as well as for the benefit of the taxpayer," Rush said.

He added that he had already been in contact with the newly elected trustees, Mrs. Erma Palmiter and Harry Hartsuff. The Board is "now working toward an amiable transition."

Regarding the election of Mrs. Palmiter and Hartsuff, both of whom are strong critics of the school district, Rush commented, "The people have spoken and have selected the people they feel

To the Editor:

In reply to the complaint in your letter box from several citizens of Huron Township regarding the annual increase in property taxes due to the State Equalized Value increases. I want to set the records straight that the Supervisor levies only the amounts that he is requested to do by the School Boards, County Boards, Township Boards, and the Courts.

The amounts requested are in most cases approved by the citizens of Huron Township, for example, about two years ago the Huron School Board requested an increase of five mills ($5.00 per thousand on S.E.V.) which was approved by a majority vote of the citizens of Huron Township thereby also giving their approval of the increases which were due to the S.E.V.

The County citizens likewise two years ago approved a one mill ($1.00 per thousands on S.E.V.) increase by referendum, thereby giving their stamp of approval on tax increases caused by the State Equalized valuation increases.

The six mills which is levied by the Huron Township Water Department was approved by the citizens of Huron Township in 1961. This levy will continue until water is made available to every citizen in the township.

The eight mills levied for the first time in 1969 is for Sanitary Sewer facilities ordered by the Courts. This levy will also continue until all sewerage which presently is going into our ditches, streams, river, back and front yards are reverted into the sewers which must be provided to carry the sewerage to plants for proper treatment and disposal to stop pollution of our waters etc.

The Township Board levies one mill ($1.00 per thousand of S.E.V.) The one mill or about $25,000 per year is all that the property owners pay in property taxes for the services they receive from the Township, such as the monthly rubbish collection (which alone costs over $18,000 annually) police protection, fire protection etc.

In conclusion, on property taxes which I think are entirely too high, we only levy the taxes approved by the citizens to provide the monies to pay for the services demanded by them.

The annual increases in the State Equalized Value which imposes higher taxes is not sneaked in as stated by the complainants, it is similar, except much less than the increases demanded by the people working for private corporations which is around $1.25 to $1.50 per hour package which we have been hearing on radio, T.V., Newspapers etc.

the services which our citizens demand must also get increases because they must pay for just as much for a loaf of bread or a quart of milk as does the factory worker, also a very high dollar for all manufactured products.

Mr. Chas. E. Marley's statement which was referred to in the complainant's letter is correct, on the other hand if our lawmakers had not approved the State Equalized Value provisions in the State Tax laws, then there could not be such increases levied.

Huron Township taxes are no higher than the neighboring communities. For 1969 the Romulus Township tax levy was $49.33 per thousand on S.E.V. Huron Township was $51.21 per thousand on S.E.V.

I would be happy to meet with any individual or group to discuss the tax problem, just call me or stop at my office anytime.

Carl W. Morris Endorsed

ROMULUS — Charles R. Kline, who initiated a re-unification movement of Romulus Democratic last week, and a potential candidate for the position of state Representative of the 38th District has withdrawn from the Aug. 4 primary race favor of Carl W. Morris.

Kline feels that Morris has given to the Romulus Community and adjacent areas many years of devoted service and time for the betterment of the area.

Kline's main contention for the possibility of becoming a candidate was not to allow anyone to run unopposed, and to bring in new and fresh leadership that is badly needed for this area at the State level.

For the past several years the people of the 38th District have not seen that leadership, or those laws, or those reforms and advice so badly needed in the various communities which are affected, Kline said.

He feels that in Carl Morris, who has announced his candidacy, is the needed vitality, inspiration and leadership that has been lacking, plus bringing in with him the years of legislative efficiency and cohesiveness that shall be used in a more direct and positive method.

In this context it is urged that all concerned citizens and individuals support Carl Morris for the position that needs leadership, inspiration and new aggressiveness which has been totally lacking for the past many years. Kline shall further offer to Carl Morris the help and support which is at his disposal.

Subdivision Plans Approved

ROMULUS — Preliminary plot plans for the construction of Oakbrook Subdivision No. 5 at Eureka, Rd., west of Middlebelt Rd., were approved by City Council June 11.

The plans, calling for the construction of 162 single family residences, had been previously approved by the Romulus Planning Commission on Jan. 27, 1970.

Council's action was merely bringing up the city's stamp of approval on the proposed residential project.

In answer to inquiries from council's audience on any provisions for recreational areas in the project made to representative of the project's building, Rose Hill, brought a reply from Council that none had been provided.

Councilman Ellis T. Pennington reported that in initial hearings before the planners, any program for school construction with its

Pack 793 Has Successful Pet Show; Lists Winners

BELLEVILLE — The Cub Scouts from Pack 793 met at St. Anthony's Catholic School for the noisest pet show of the year.

More than 40 boys attended with their favorite pet for the annual pet show.

From the middle of the barks, meows, and quacks the following winners were chosen:

Most Original Pet, Alan Hardy with his lobster on a leash.

Cutest Pet, Paul Eldon with his two baby raccoons.

Most Colorful, Paul Branscomb with his mother calico cat and kittens.

Marlene Morris, Robert Devine and Sister Mary Joan were the judges. The scouts wish to thank the judges especially Sister Mary Joan, who couldn't seem to make her decision without holding and petting each pet.

Harold Innes, scout commissioner, accepted Mike Mickus into Boy Scout Troop 793. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Al Mickus, have served the pack for many years, as Den mother and dad and the scouts hope they will continue to keep in touch.

Roy Allen and Mark Innes received their Bear Badges and then joined Cris Liedel to advance into Webelos. John Allen was awarded his Wolf Badge and Robert Dillon received his Bear Badge with a gold and a silver arrow under it. Joe Monforten received a silver arrow under his wolf.

In the Webelos den, Robert Morris received his pin for Athlete and Sportsman and Jim Lentz received his Naturalist pin.

The Pack sold Scout-A-Rama tickets and attended the event at the State Fair Grounds on June 5, 6, and 7.

There will be no more Den Meetings until September, but summer outings have been planned.

Thanks and praise were given to the boys for showing up in full force for both the Michigan Week parade and Memorial Day parade giving 793 more representation than any pack in the area.

Out-Wayne County Motor Aid Corps Needs Helpers

(Do you have a few hours a week for volunteer work? Are you over 21 years of age? Are you a good driver? Call 291-2662 today.)

Finding help at a hospital, clinic or social service agency is not always a quick solution to an individual's problems.

Many people have no means of transportation to these places and cannot afford cab fare. Some just never get to the hospital or agency that can help them.

On the other hand, many individuals who have a day or a half day to devote to volunteer work don't know how to get in touch with the people who are in need of their services.

Mighty MAC, the Motor Aid Corps, hopes to help solve this dilemma. In cooperation with the Wayne Vicariate Service Units of the Archdiocesan Council of Catholic Women and the Wayne County Units of Church Women United, United Community Services, Wayne Division, is coordinating efforts to find more volunteer drivers, and

Cooperative arrangements have been established with Red Cross Units, Michigan Cancer Foundation Units and the Downriver Child Guidance Clinic.

Under the chairmanship of Mrs. Thomas Clarke of the Archdiocesan Council of Catholic Women, the committee consists of Mrs. Robert Carbury, Dearborn; Mrs. Joseph Glenn, Westland; Mrs. Harry Hoxie, Dearborn; Mrs. Charles Kirk, Riverview; Mrs. Carl Kirsch, Dearborn Heights; Mrs. Charles McIntosh, Lincoln Park; Mrs. Raymond O'Connell, Allen Park; Mrs. Albert Pilz, Wyandotte; Mrs. Herschel Ping, Livonia; Mrs. Malcolm Quinley, Southgate; Mrs. Fred Schneidewind, Dearborn; Mrs. John Sobkowiak, Garden City; Mrs. Peter Stevens, Livonia; Mrs. Anne Verbeke, Livonia; Mrs. Lawrence Villare, Wyandotte; Mrs. Joseph Weinburger, Livonia; Mrs. Robert Wilson, River Rouge; Mrs. John Yori, Garden City; and Mrs. Julius Zink, Redford.

In addition to providing volunteer drivers from their ranks, these organizations have recruited volunteer dispatchers to receive requests from social service agencies for transporting clients.

They began their volunteer jobs as dispatchers this past Monday, June 15, at the UCS office at 24365 Van Born Rd., Taylor.

THE MOTOR AID CORPS WILL ALSO BE ACCEPTING calls from individuals (women and men) who care to devote a few hours a week to volunteer drive a person to a hospital or social service agency.

Licensed drivers 21 years of age and over who are interested in offering their services as drivers or learning more about the Motor Aid Corps are asked to call 291-2662 between 10:00 a.m. and 2:00 p.m. Monday through Friday.

Grecian Memories

MRS. HERBERT MIDA of Robson Road is home again and looking back at her wonderful three weeks abroad. Jetting away from home soil, she landed in Athens, Greece and was greeted by her daughter and son-in-law, Sandra and Roger Fry, who were waiting with a dozen long-stemmed red roses. This was Betty's first look at the young couple since they departed from the States one year ago. Roger is currently serving with the U.S. Navy at Nea Makri.

Betty toured many points of interest including the historical Acropolis and the world-re-knowned flea market situated just below and in view of the ancient ruins. This is where Betty did most of her shopping for souvenirs including hand-sewn sandals from the famous 'Poet-Sandalmaker' of Athens.

Another trip took our Bellevillite to the newly-found burial grounds of the Marathon warriors, the skulls and bones of these historical barbarian men having been recently uncovered.

She also did some sight-seeing at Sounion—the very tip of Greece—and shopped in the heart of Athens. Getting away from the regular tourist routine, she relaxed on the beaches of the Mediterranean and Aegean Seas while enjoying the ideal 70-degree temperatures.

She was even able to master some of the Greek language before having to bid adieu to the ancient land and her family. On her return to Metro Airport, there was a re-play of her greeting in Greece — her husband and sons awaiting her arrival with (you guessed it) — a bouquet of long-stemmed red roses.

AH, GREECE — No Hollywood prop, that building forming the background for this family trio, Mrs. Herbert Mida and Sandra and Roger Fry, but the ancient Parthenon itself. This photo was taken during Mrs. Mida's recent three-week trip to Greece.

Dual Celebration

AFTER RECEIVING his first communion at St. Stephen's recently, Carey Johnson joined his oldest brother, Rick, in greeting open house visitors from Adrian, Allen Park, Almont, Birmingham, Brown City, Romeo, Taylor, and New Boston. Rick, who was scheduled to graduate from Huron High School, shared congratulations from the guests.

The Johnson girls — Ann, Christine and Cathy — soon understood the fulfillment of a week's preparation as friends, neighbors and relatives complimented them on the lovely buffet dinner set up for 65 guests.

The young males in the family, Mark, 14, and Christopher, five, also lent a hand with the entertainment and opening of gifts.

Since it is a new home for the C.R. Johnsons of Bell Road, many of the cousins and family friends were seeing it for the first time.

Rick, the first grandchild to graduate, was happy to have his grandparents, the Clifton Johnsons, present from Melvindale, and the P.J. LaLondes as houseguests from Burnside, Michigan.

College Grads

CECILIE ANN Pletcher, daughter of the Joseph Sewejkis' of Clark Road, was awarded a bachelor of arts degree at the University of Michigan's commencement exercises.

Mrs. Pletcher, a 1964 graduate of Huron High School, majored in English and social studies and received an elementary teaching certificate.

She and her husband will move to Edwardsville, Illinois in the fall where he will be on the faculty at Southern Illinois University. She plans to teach elementary school.

GAYLE ANN Laverack, daughter of the Alton Laveracks of Grant Road, Romulus, was one of 102 graduates to receive their bachelor of arts degree from Olivet College this month.

COMMENCEMENT EXERCISES Sunday at Michigan State University's School of Nursing included Mary Ann Sietz, daughter of the Joseph Sietzs of Sumpter Road. Attending the program at Erickson Kiva on campus were the Sietzs, their son and wife, Dick and Grace Sietz of Trenton; Bill Emerson, the Justin Emersons, and Bessie Harris. Enroute from East Lansing the group was joined by Rick Emerson for dinner at The Canopy in Brighton.

A week earlier, June 6, Bill Emerson received his B.S. Degree in history from Central Michigan University at Mount Pleasant. The Justin Emersons (his parents) and his fiancée, Mary Ann Sietz, were present for the occasion and celebrated the event with dinner in Alma.

Our Grads Feted

BETH BURCROFF, who was secretary of her senior class at Belleville High, will be off to Hillsdale College Sunday for summer classes prior to the regular session this fall. This past Sunday, Beth was congratulated by some 30 relatives who came from Detroit and Warren for the reception hosted by her parents, the Jack Burcroffs of E. Huron River Drive.

SUMMER COURSES are also on the calendar for Diane Hill who's signed up at Eastern Michigan University for the fall term.

Invitations to an open house in her honor Sunday were answered by some 70 friends and relatives. Arriving from Northville, Ypsilanti, Plymouth, and Belleville, the group of well-wishers enjoyed a two o'clock buffet hosted by Diane's parents, the Arthur Hills of Van Allen Drive.

SUNDAY, THE 7th, loomed bright and beautiful — perfect for the pool party which highlighted the open house tossed by the Richard Burwells of Dewitt Road for their son, Mike, another member of Belleville's senior class.

At four o'clock relatives and friends from Dearborn, Mt. Clemens, Utica, and Allen Park enjoyed the buffet dinner and swimming with high school friends making up the evening party. About 100 guests attended including the Burwell's houseguests for the week, Paul and Janet Stitt of Decatur, Illinois.

Mike, who's set his sights on the dental profession, will be a student at Eastern Michigan this fall. In the meantime, he's working as a baker in his dad's Dunkin' Donuts Shop in Taylor.

ON SATURDAY evening, the 13th, there was an open house at the Sylvester Kenyon home on Moms Drive honoring their son, Barry. The early portion of the evening was devoted to friends and relatives who came in from Royal Oak, St. Clair Shores, Utica, and Berkley.

Among those attending were Father Traube, a friend from the Shrine of the Little Flower in Royal Oak, and Father Raymond Skoney from St. Anthony's.

Two cousins, Mrs. Betty Spinek of Utica and Mrs. Jeanne Farnam of Berkley, assisted Mrs. Kenyon with the hostess detail.

Then around eight-thirty, Barry's classmates from B.H.S. — about 70 in all — took over and enjoyed seeing films taken during their recent senior trip to New York City and the nation's capitol.

Barry's plans for the future? — Come August he'll be cracking the books at General Motors Institute in Flint.

A CANOPY IN the Chuck Mason's yard on Robson Road formed the setting for much of the reception honoring their daughter, Denise, Sunday at two. Pitching in to help with the arrangements were Madelyn's and Chuck's brothers and sisters who traveled from Ann Arbor, Saline, Dearborn, Flint, Belleville, and the Down River area along with other relatives and friends — about 100 in all.

This summer Denise has a job at Ballard's Florists in Belleville.

OUT DENTON WAY at the Frank Horton home Sunday, open house festivities celebrated the graduation of their daughter, Debbie, one of the 375 to be awarded diplomas from Belleville High.

Debbie, who's enrolled at Eastern for the fall term, received congratulations from some 160 friends and relatives who attended from Dexter, Saline, Detroit, Ypsilanti, Belleville, and surrounding cities. Her aunts helped provide dishes for the one-thirty buffet dinner held on the Horton's Denton Road lawn.

Big Plans Afoot

THREE OF our local grads, Kenn Breithaupt, Jim Bies and Chet Meyer, were on their way last Friday to the wilderness of northern Quebec. Driving a Bronco with a trailer in tow, the threesome had all their gear packed for their two weeks of fishing along with hunting bear and wolf.

The three sportsmen planned the outdoor venture in lieu of their senior trip. For the last four days of their outing, they will be joined by Kenn's dad, Charles Breithaupt, and three of his friends who plan to drive up to Quebec.

Come this September, Kenn will begin classes in business administration at Washtenaw Community College while Chet makes his way to Flint Junior College where he was awarded a grant for his swimming prowess. An outstanding tanker at Belleville High, Chet placed in the top 12 in the state championship meet.

Polak-Gibala Vows Exchanged June 5

In a June 5 ceremony at St. Aloysius Catholic Church, Romulus, Geraldine Gibala and David Polak exchanged nuptial vows and wedding bands.

The six o'clock ceremony was ready by Father Joseph Kernosek before an altar adorned with bouquets of yellow chrysanthemums. Bob Michniewicz was at the organ to play traditional wedding selections.

The ceremony united the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Gibala of 3884 Huron River Drive, Romulus, and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Emil Polak of 10846 168th Street, Grand Haven, Michigan.

ESCORTED TO the sanctuary by her father, Geraldine appeared in white dotted swiss, styled in floor-length with short, puffed sleeves and white daisy appliques for accents.

Her bouffant veil of silk illusion was caught to a lace bow and she carried an arrangement of white daisies and yellow sweetheart roses.

A close friend of the bride, Carol McIlwain of Romulus, was asked to be maid of honor. Her frock of yellow dotted swiss was also trimmed with daisy appliques and she wore yellow daisies and green ribbons in her hair. Her green-streamered bouquet was comprised of yellow daisies and yellow sweetheart roses.

Gary Gorham of Wayne served as best man.

Mrs. Gibala chose for her daughter's wedding an aqua ensemble to which she added a corsage of aqua-tipped carnations tied in matching ribbon. A similar corsage in blue was pinned to the blue dress which Mrs. Polak donned for her son's wedding.

Following their reception at Howard's Town House, Wayne the newlyweds departed for a two week honeymoon in Arizona after which they will make their home in Grand Haven.

The new Mrs. Polak is a licensed practical nurse having earned her certificate at the Ann Arbor Practical Nurse Education Center. Her husband, a commercial pilot, is employed by Executive Air Transport at Muskegon.

Garden Club Holds Installation Tea

The Huron Valley Garden Club held its annual installation tea Monday, June 1, at the home of Mrs. William Hennells of E. Huron River Drive. Co-hostesses for the occasion were Mrs. Rodney Mast, Mrs. Earl Smith and Mrs. Edwin Weimer.

Mrs. Olin H. Wyman installed the new officers in a simple, but beautiful, ceremony presenting each with a "tussey mussey" reminiscent of the nosegays of flowers and herbs carried by ladies in colonial days.

Accepting office for the ensuing year were Mrs. Rodney Mast, president; Mrs. Adger Wall, vice-president; Mrs. Harold Roberts, secretary; and Mrs. Lynne Hamilton, treasurer.

Retiring president, Mrs. Michael Sirdanik, presented her officers and chairmen with petite floral arrangements in appreciation of their many services during her two year term.

Annual reports were given by chairmen of the various standing committees which gave a bird's eye view of a rewarding year in the club's conservation, horticulture and civic activities.

Plans were also made for furnishing the floral arrangements for the Belleville High graduation, an annual service of the club.

EVERY BOY AND GIRL IS INVITED

Couple Wed in Belleville

Sandra Evanski Is The New Mrs. John Betsinger

Double ring vows were solemnized at St. Anthony's Catholic Church May 16 uniting in marriage Sandra Ann Evanski and John F. Betsinger, both of Belleville.

Father Raymond Skoney presided at the noon nuptials before some 150 assembled friends and relatives. Soloist for the happy occasion was Gerry Klasek who was accompanied on the organ by Kathy Klasek.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Robert S. Evanski of 14000 Hoeft Road, Belleville. Mr. and Mrs. William Betsinger, Sr. of 46537 Ecorse Road, Belleville, are the bridegroom's parents.

CHANTILLY LACE was used to form the bride's wedding dress. Fashioned with a Sabrina neckline, the fitted bodice, sprinkled with shimmering sequins featured full, sheer bishop sleeves cuffed in lace. The bouffant skirt was a cascade of ruffles with an apron effect at the front.

An openwork crown of crystals secured her floor-length illusion veil which was bordered with Chantilly lace and she carried a colonial cascade of red sweetheart roses, carnations, chrysanthemums, and baby's breath.

Carrying out the bridal tradition of something old, etc., Sandra wore a heart-shaped necklace from her first communion day; donned her new wedding ensemble; carried the handkerchief her mother had held on her own wedding day which had been a gift from her mother; and slipped on a garter which was blue.

Gertrude Evanski was her sister's honor attendant. Her formal gown was in frosted powder blue with a high-collared lace bodice designed with long sleeves edged in lace.

Her headdress, a tiara, held her waist-length veil and she carried a colonial arrangement of blue-tipped carnations and sweetheart roses.

Wearing rainbow colors was the quintet of bridesmaids: Mrs. James Betsinger, sister-in-law of the bridegroom from Pinckney; and Doretta Evanski, sister of the bride, both in pale frosted green; and Debby Evanski and Mary Betsinger, sisters of the bride, both in frosted yellow.

Patricia Evanski, the bride's 11-year-old sister, was junior bridesmaid in a toe-touching gown of pink dotted swiss with lace trim.

Traveling from Mascoutah, Illinois to perform as flowergirl at her cousin's wedding was Rhonda Evanski, the six-year old daughter of The Chester Evanskis. Her gown was identical to the junior attendant's and the basket she carried was filled with carnations and sweetheart roses.

AS HIS brother's best man, Jim Betsinger of Pinckney headed the corps of ushers which included the bride's brother, Dan Evanski, who was on leave from his Air Force duties in Alaska; Robby Krzeminski of Detroit and Jim Ackron of Belleville, both cousins of the bride; and Paul Roddick of Westland.

Carrying out the role of ringbearer was seven-year old Gerard Evanski, the bride's brother.

At the luncheon, which followed at the P.N.A. Lodge, Mrs. Evanski greeted the 150 guests in an A-line dress of deep pink while the bridegroom's mother wore an A-line dress in lavender. Both added cymbidium orchids to their frocks.

The reception at seven thirty was attended by 400 guests.

Following a week-long honeymoon in Quebec City, Quebec, the newlyweds made their home in Oscoda where Sergeant Betsinger is serving with the U.S. Air Force at Wurtsmith Air Base. Both Sandra and John are Belleville High School graduates. Until her husband completes his tour of duty in November, Sandra is working at the A. & P. Food Store in Oscoda.

2 State Events Get Attention

Three Michigan community events have each been named among the nation's top 20 travel events for the summer months by the Discover America Travel Organizations (DATO), William T. McGraw, director of the Michigan Tourist Council, reported.

Selected as one of the top travel events for July is the National Cherry Festival, Traverse City, July 6-12. This traditional salute to the cherry began in 1923, recognizing the Traverse City area as the nation's cherry capital.

The August listing proclaims the sixth annual Danish Festival, Greenville, Aug. 22, as one of the 20 best travel events. Authentic Danish food specialties, Danish costumes and customs and Danish movies are among the highlights of the 1970 festival.

Sharing top honors for the month of September is the annual Old Car Festival, Greenfield Village and Henry Ford Museum, Dearborn, Sept. 12-13. The festival features more than 300 antique automobiles, vintage 1896-1925.

These and more than 200 other community events are listed in the latest edition of the Michigan Calendar of Events, available free of charge from the Michigan Tourist Council, Stevens T. Mason Building, Lansing 48926.

Turn On Taste With Lemon

Whether a cook is from the Orient, Europe or South America - or Des Moines, Iowa - chances are he or she relies upon lemon juice to turn on taste in many recipes. Foods which require this international favorite are served for breakfast, lunch and dinner - and between meal snacks.

With this in mind, RealLemon Foods, makers of convenient bottled lemon and bottled lime juices, has gathered gourmet recipes from all over the world for their new, 50-page Turn on Taste recipe book. Sections are devoted to soups, appetizers, main dish entrees, salads, vegetables, beverages, breads and desserts-all containing lemon or lime juices.

The beginning cook will find the recipes easy to follow for the most part. A few more elaborate authentic Spanish or French dishes may challenge the experienced cook. But all recipes can be depended upon to enhance the users reputation as a gourmet chef.

The recipe book is available upon request by sending 25 cents to cover postage and handling to: Turn on Taste Recipe Booklet, 4834 West Armitage Avenue, Chicago, Illinois 60639.

Rights Board Seeks Director

DETROIT - The search for an executive director for the Michigan Civil Rights Commission to replace the late Burton I. Gordin is being conducted throughout the state of Michigan and the nation.

Commission Chairman Julian A. Cook, Jr. said the Commission is making a careful and thorough search for a qualified person to fill the director's post, vacant since March 20 when Gordin was shot to death in downtown Detroit by an unknown assailant.

Gordin was the first director of the Commission and set up the agency when it began operation six years ago. The full-time staff now numbers 199.

The executive director of the MCRA is the unique position of being the administrative head of the largest state civil rights agency staff in the country and the only one created by a state constitution.

The revised 1963 Michigan Constitution gave the Commission power "to investigate alleged discrimination against any person because of religion, race, color or national origin in the enjoyment of civil rights without such discrimination."

As head of one of the 19

major departments of state government, the MCRC director oversees the activities of a staff which carries out the constitutional mandate principally in the fields of education, employment, housing, public accommodations and law enforcement.

The executive director is appointed by and reports to the Commission, whose eight members are appointed by the Governor. Headquarters of the agency are in Detroit.

"The Executive Director must have positive and affirmative attitudes about civil rights, their enforcement and the education of the public against illegal discrimination. He should easily be able to relate effectively to a wide variety of community individuals and groups," said Cook.

Other requirements are an advanced degree in social work, law, administration or related fields or equivalent previous experience. The applicant may be male or female.

Persons interested in applying for the post are asked to respond in writing, including complete resume and references by June 20 to: Michigan Civil Rights Commission, Post Office Box 422 A, Detroit, Michigan 48232.

Painting Spruces Up Headstart Graduation

ROMULUS - Today is graduation day for thirty two youngsters who will celebrate the occasion with a ceremony, gifts and a luncheon. All this will take place in a spanking white newly painted structure called the Headstart Building.

It started out with one mother's concern about the appearance of the flaking and peeling paint on the little frame building, located next door to the Special Service Building on Washington Street.

Mrs. Opal Lay, whose son is in the Headstart Program, began making inquiries some time ago in an attempt to get the building refurbished on the outside. She did not meet with much encouragement in the beginning because the building is donated by the school district whose budget does not include improvement of obsolete buildings.

Mrs. Lay wrote to Contact Ten, explaining the plight of the group and emphasizing the great good going on inside the shabby exterior. Her efforts were rewarded by a donation of 20 gallons of paint, from the Schermerhorn Paint Products Co. Inc. of Ferndale.

the project and soon there were scrapers, brushes, rollers and wire brushes to complete the supplies. Volunteers arrived on the scene and work began. Groups of children from Gordonier School started scraping off old paint and by Saturday the surface was ready.

The weather was perfect when volunteers started painting around 10 a.m. Saturday and by noon they had nearly completed the west end of building. They were having some doubts about being able to finish all four sides by Wednesday, but were ready to be satisfied if the two sides that show were finished in time for graduation.

Among those who helped paint on Saturday were: Webster West, Romulus High School senior, Mrs. Dorothy Weekly, teacher, Mrs. Janet Block, teacher, Doug May, Tim Mann, Pat Farnsworth, and Frank Decker, students from Gordonier School.

Merchants who contributed to the project were: Romulus Hardware, Raymonds Paint and Hardware, Security Hardware, Stevens Drug, Cobb Pharmacy, 7/11 Store, K Mart, Kresge and Kroger

Director Ralph A. MacMullan who named the advisory group, explained: "Each year more of our citizens lose their lives through water accidents not connected with boating than in boating accidents."

The Council spontaneously agreed to put non-boating water safety as its first order of business to upgrade and strengthen. Sgt. William Carter of the Michigan State Police, volunteered to work up a proposed slate of legislation needed to provide the framework for significantly reducing the state's toll of swimming and other non-boating losses.

Those recommendations will be brought before the Council for its consideration at the group's next meeting scheduled to be held June 18 in the Stevens T. Mason Building, Lansing.

Robert Dyke, head of the DNR's Marine Safety Section, reported at the Council's first meeting that his unit will implement a new program in the next several months also targeted at boosting general water safety.

Brothers Meet Aboard Ship

FLAT ROCK — Two brothers in the service of their country in Vietnam met for the first time on Memorial Day, aboard ocean escort the USS Bradley.

Radarman Third Class Gerald P. Gomes, Jr. and Specialist Fourth Class Anthony P. Gomes of Flat Rock, Mich. have been unable to see each other for two and one half years as they have never had coinciding leave periods.

RD3 Gomes serves in the Combat Information Center of the USS Bradley presently deployed to the U.S. Seventh Fleet and operating as a Naval Gunfire Support Ship.

SP4 Gomes is an artilleryman with E Company, 5th Battalion, 27th Artillery Regiment, stationed in the Republic of Vietnam.

When it was discovered that the brothers' units were close to each other, SP4 Gomes was flown by helicopter to the USS Bradley to visit his brother.

Because of the busy schedule of a gunfire support ship, he found himself working right alongside his older brother - on watch, in mess line, and handling ammunition during the ship's underway replenishment.

While admitting that he was impressed with life aboard an ocean escort with her air-conditioned compartments, fresh water and freshly laundered clothes, he commented on what to him was the outstanding feature of his visit "the chow was great", he said with a grin.

The brothers are the sons of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald P.

Gomes, Sr. of Flat Rock. Gomes Sr., is employed in Sales at Astro Realty Co., New Boston.

Study of Holiday Road Toll By AAA Brings Plea

Facts gained from a study of 1970's Memorial Day and New Year's weekend highway deaths have prompted Automobile Club of Michigan to send a letter to every member of the Michigan House of Representatives re-emphasizing the need for adopting .10 as the blood-alcohol level to determine a motorist drunk.

The Michigan Senate has already passed such a bill.

"Studies of these past two holidays' traffic deaths show that persons under 26 years old account for a highly disproportionate share of fatalities, with alcohol suspected over half the time," James Moffat, Auto Club's assistant general manager said.

A preliminary investigation of this Memorial Day weekend's fatal accidents shows that of the 22 persons who died between 6 p.m. Thursday and midnight Sunday, 15 were under 26 years old, or 70 percent.

Auto Club points out that persons under 26 years old comprise 21 percent of the driving population and just under 50 percent of the total population.

Alcohol was a factor in four of 15 deaths involving persons 25 and under over Memorial Day weekend. It was listed as "not stated" in four other fatalities and "not involved" in seven accidents. If the known and "not stated" categories are combined, Auto Club states that alcohol involvement is a factor in 45 percent of the deaths.

In its most recent "Bring 'Em Back Alive!" study of fatal traffic accidents titled "Portrait of a Year, 1969," Auto Club states that some officers check the "not stated" category after an accident because they "...do not want to state what appears obvious on an accident record without empirical proof for the courts."

The 1969 study also says that indicating "not stated" is just poor accident reporting on the part of some law-enforcement officials.

Auto Club's 1969 study also points out that of the first 10 persons who died on state highways in 1970, all were under 26 years old, and all died between midnight and 7:30 a.m. New Year's Day. Nine of those killed were 21 years old and under.

The 1969 study adds that "...alcohol was a definite factor in seven of the first 10 deaths in 1970. If the deaths listed as alcohol 'not stated' are added to the 'yes' category, alcohol was a factor in nine of the 10 deaths.

"...the first ten deaths in 1970 dramatically point out that alcohol, inexperience and youth when mixed with driving a car is a lethal combination," the study states.

"We do not yet have statistics to show how many of the under-26-year-old motorists were driving or what the circumstances were in each death over Memorial Day weekend," points out Moffat.

"This will be part of our 1970 'Bring 'Em Back Alive!' study which we will publish next year," he added.

Auto Club's preliminary analysis of this Memorial Day weekend's 22 deaths in 21 accidents shows the following:

* There were 27 drivers involved, all male.

* Of those killed, there were 10 drivers, 10 passengers and two pedestrians.

* Twenty of 27 drivers involved, or 74 percent, were within 25 miles of home.

* Alcohol was a proven factor in 29.6 percent of the 22 accidents and "not stated" in 14.9 percent. Past Auto Club studies and other investigations show that alcohol is a factor at least half the time.

* Single-vehicle accidents accounted for 62 percent of the accidents.

* In addition to the 13 single-vehicle accidents (including one motorcycle crash), there were a pair of two-car, head-on crashes, two angle collisions, two car-motorcycle collisions and two single-car pedestrian accidents.

* Deaths by age are as follows: 13 months, one death; nine years, one; 15 years, one; 17 years, one; 18 years, one; 19 years, two; 21 years, three; 22 years, three; 23 years, one; 25 years, one; 27 years, one; 32 years, one; 34 years, one; 43 years, one; 44 years, one; 51 years, one; and 55 years, one.

* When compared with the 34 deaths during the 78-hour Memorial Day weekend in 1969, deaths this past holiday dropped 36 percent.

CONTEST WINNERS — The Third Annual Huron Valley Conservation Association Carp Shooting Contest was held last Sunday. Winners for the carp shooting contest are left to right: Ken Townsend, with seven pounds and 13 ounces; Bonnie Parker and Elaine Klappenech, a tie, with catches of five pounds each.

Carp Shooting Contest Is Reported A Big Success

BELLEVILLE — The Huron Valley Conservation Association Third Annual Carp Shooting Contest was a tremendous success.

Sunny skies, good fishing, tasty food, cold refreshments, the meeting of old and new friends made an ideal afternoon for one and all.

Assorted games kept the young and old occupied. The Criteria of having a lot of fun may be gauged by the overheard remarks:

"I haven't done that in years and so help me I'm pooped!" "Look at him, just look, he actually jumped high enough to get both feet off the ground!" "She didn't know she could pitch horseshoes like that either!" "That must be her third plate!" "Junior is alright, he's fishing off the bank and the water is shallow!" "Whose kid is that? He just took a sip of my b..." "Isn't she a doll, the little one, I mean!" "Look at that little tyke holding that little girls hand!" "I'm sure glad you talked me into coming, hah..." "Look at the size of those fish!" "Sure hope I win a prize!"

Unfortunately, everyone did not win a prize. The lucky winners are:

First Prize: G. C. Crowder,

600 Sumpter Rd. No. 37, who won a tent as his prize.

Second Prize: Gabrielle Muschel, 47195 Ayres, who received a fly rod as her prize; and Third Prize: J. Preczowski, 22319 Visnaw, winner of the bow, reel, arrows prize.

For the carp shooting contest, the winners were: Senior: Ken Townsend, seven pounds and 13 oz. Women: TIE between Bonnie Parke and Elaine Klappenech with a catch of each four pounds.

Three Parties Qualify For Primary Election

LANSING — There will be no new entries or any surprises as voters will be able to choose between three parties in Michigan's primary election Aug. 4 and five parties in the November general election, Secretary of State James M. Hare has disclosed.

The five party choices in November are two less than in 1968 when an all-time high of seven parties were on the ballot. Besides the two traditional major parties, Republican and Democrat, the other parties qualifying for a spot in November were the American Independent party, the Socialist Workers, and Socialist Labor.

Two parties which qualified in 1968... New Politics and Prohibition... did not qualify this year.

Minority parties must gain at least one percent of the votes cast for the successful secretary of state to automatically qualify for a spot on the general election

The largest number of minor parties to ever qualify in a Michigan election was in 1938 when the Socialist, Socialist Labor, American, Commonwealth, Protestants United and Square Deal parties were on the ballot.

Six minority parties were on the 1936 ballot, the last time the Farmer-Labor Party appeared, and in 1932, when the Communist Party was on the Michigan ballot.

The Communist Party racked up its biggest vote in 1932... 7,906. It was listed for the last time in 1940 when it polled only 2,387 votes.

Water Rates' OK Delayed By City

ROMULUS — Action by City Council on Romulus' Water and Sewer Ordinance rates has been deferred pending further information and clarification of some provisions of the ordinance by the Water and Sewer Department and city attorney.

A public hearing on water and sewer rates was held at city council chambers at 7 p.m., June 11.

At the hearing some discussion involved the quarterly charge of $1.50 for payment on installed meters.

Inquiry by city council was what happened to monies collected?

There are approximately 5,000 meters currently in use by city's water and sewer users.

Council was told that the monies are returned to the general fund and used in

Council Ups Apartment Unit Parking To Two

BELLEVILLE — The Belleville City Council voted Monday night to increase the off-street parking requirements for apartment units from 1½ cars per unit to two cars per unit.

The Council made the change in the zoning ordinance in the section dealing with parking requirements for apartments.

The Council indicated that they believed that the 1½ unit requirement was just not enough, and that the two car requirements would alleviate some of the apartment parking overcrowding.

City Continues Summer Program

ROMULUS — City Council upon request of Mayor Hyle J. Carmichael has authorized continuation of Romulus' present schedule of summer recreation.

At the present time the city has no Recreation Commission. The commission approved by Romulus Township dissolved when Romulus became a city.

Both the summer program, as programmed prior to adoption of cityhood by Romulus voters, and recreation director will continue.

Mayor Carmichael had requested council's endorsement of current recreation programs until such time as he can recommend a new Recreation Commission.

Mechanic Need Cited By Army

WAYNE—The word is out from Army Recruiting Sergeant Rolland R. Adams about the Army's need for skilled mechanics and repairmen in the meteorological field - and the recent high school graduate can be the real beneficiary.

As Sergeant Adams put it "weather is as vital a factor in the Army's planning as the number of troops and supplies at its disposal. To maintain the equipment vital to the meteorologist is the job of the Meteorological Equipment Repairman. In this capacity he must be familiar with the organization, support and depot maintenance of electrical and electronic meteorological equipment used in artillery ballistic meteorology sections and research and development activities."

"Vital to his job is a knowledge of electricity, electronics and radio; special circuits for meteorological equipment; and the maintenance and repair of surface observation and recording equipment."

More information about these positions and other career opportunities for young men and women in today's modern Army is available from Sergeant Adams at Wayne Post Office, during the hours from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. weekdays, and from 8 a.m. to 12 on Saturdays.

Southland To Open In July

More than 600 workmen are engaged in completing the huge 645,879 square foot Southland Center on Eureka Rd., Taylor.

Scheduled to open in July, Southland will offer J.L. Hudson's and 57 other major retailing and service stores.

Built at a cost in excess of $10,000,000, the Center becomes the fifth developed by Shopping Centers, Inc., division of the Dayton Hudson Corporation.

The others are the world-famous Northland Center, in Southfield; Eastland Center in Harper Woods; Westland Center in Westland; and Genesee Valley

Center in Flint, which is scheduled to open just a short time prior to Southland.

When Southland is completed, it will provide employment for more than 2,000 persons. Each day its population will run from between a few thousand to as many as 150,000 or more persons strolling its air-conditioned, temperature-controlled enclosed malls. These malls will be adorned with outstanding sculptures by some of America's best known artists.

Through its Merchants Association, Southland Center will present a continuing series of shows, exhibits and events, designed to attract visitors and shoppers, and allow the center to play an active role in the community affairs.

Time To Register Boats

If you own a boat which is 16 feet or longer and you use it in the Great Lakes or connecting waterways, now's a great time to get it licensed for the 1970 boating season.

Michigan's boat plate law applies to all crafts whether they are motor-driven or not so long as they qualify in length and are used in the Great Lakes or connecting rivers and lakes.

Boat plates must be purchased each year. They may be obtained at selected Secretary of State branch offices, usually the larger branch offices or branches close to affected waterways.

Michigan's boat plate law... in effect since 1911... is not to be confused with the state's motorboat registration law in which all motorboats must be registered during three-year cycles.

Cost of plates, according to Secretary of State James M. Hare, range all the way from $5 for boats 16 to 20 feet to tonnage rates for boats longer than 65 feet.

Many boats qualify for both boat plates and motorboat registration, says Hare.

The boat plate law applies to sailboats if they are 16 feet or longer and use the Great Lakes or connecting waters. The only exceptions are canoes of any length with motors of less than two horsepower.

Boat plates, notes Hare, go with the boats if they are sold or transferred. The boat plate registration is transferred to the new owner at no cost.

Plates should be displayed on both sides of the boat back of the center of the craft so they do not conflict with possible numbering of the boat which goes on the front of the hull.

Plates should be as easily seen at all times and must be attached so that tarpaulins or other boat coverings will not hide them.

Boat owners unsure of the length of their boats may measure them from the tip of the bow to the back of the boat.

Following is the cost of boat plates:

16 feet... but not over 20 feet... $5.
over 20 feet... but not over 28 feet... 15.
over 28 feet... but not over 35 feet... 25.
over 35 feet... but not over 42 feet... 35.
over 42 feet... but not over 50 feet... 45.
over 50 feet... but not over 65 feet... 75.

Boats longer than 65 feet are based on $1.00 per foot and $1.00 per ton additionally for each registered gross tonnage.

For additional information, call the Downriver YMCA (285-2010) and a Day Camp brochure will be mailed to you upon request.

Picking A Lock Is Not The Only Way!

Organized automobile theft rings have been experiencing increasing difficulty because of the change-over by major automobile manufacturers to more complicated locking devices.

The improved locks first made their appearance in the 1969 models, and a further improvement has been incorporated in the 1970 models.

Because of this frustrating turn of events, the theft rings have now adopted some new techniques. One of these is based on the common knowledge that automobile manufacturers are now required to advise purchasers of defects found to exist in certain model cars.

A member of the ring calls a purchaser of a late model (and usually expensive) automobile, claiming to be from the dealer's office.

He indicates that a certain defect has been discovered and that the factory has requested return of the car to remedy the defect.

To avoid any inconvenience to the purchaser, the 'dealer' arranges to have someone stop by to pick the car up and indicates they will deliver it again after repair.

This technique has proven quite effective in some areas, and agents can assist in warning their insureds of the danger involved in dealing with persons whose identity has not been checked.

A Year Without A Tiger '70 All-Area '9' Unique

By TOM MOORADIAN
Sports Editor

Not only is the Associated Newspapers' 1970 high school All-Area baseball team noted for what it has accomplished this season, but there is another uniqueness to this year's mythical squad.

It is the first time in recent years that Belleville players have failed to earn a coveted berth.

"It's tough, I know," said coach Vitold Kaminski, "but I feel you have to be a standout on our team in order to be nominated. And this year I just didn't have that type of player."

"We're young and I hope all of my boys improve next year so that I will have no reservations in nominating anyone for the honor," said coach Kaminski.

All-Area team are: pitcher Lee Ballard (Romulus), catcher Dan Cesarz (St. Mary's of Wayne), first baseman Bruce Jackson (Romulus), second baseman Bob Newsome (John Glenn), shortstop Don Delano (Huron), Ray Horn (Romulus), Butch Suemnick (Huron) and Jack Gracia (Huron) all outfielders, and third baseman, Bob Briggs (John Glenn).

The 16-year-old junior compiled a 7-5 won-loss record, including a no-hitter. An all-conference nominee, Lee worked 91 innings and fanned 134 while he issued 43 bases on balls. His earn run average was 2.70.

Jackson and Horn also are seniors and bring impressive hitting credentials to this year's mythical All-Area "9". Jackson belted in 12 runs in a .333 season while Horn, a holdover from last year's squad, finished his prep

Most of the damage, aside from the miscues, to Baum's hopes was caused by the hitting of Al Ott and Richard Spearman who both had a perfect day.

Ott connected for three for three, including a two-run triple to left center in the sixth, while teammate Spearman carved out two-for-two.

Errors — seven of them — paved the way for Baum's Funeral Home's downfall in the Romulus Adult Softball League last week as the previously undefeated leaders suffered their first setback of the young campaign from Cue Corners 7-4.

Baum's winning streak came to an abrupt halt at seven. But the losers still hung on in first place, having the edge over second place Anchor Block by virtue of one win.

Block, the defending champ has won six and dropped one while Baum's has compiled a 7-1 won-loss record at this stage of the game.

Gary Hubbard, who was in control most of the way, scattering 10 hits, picked up the victory against Baum's. Ivan Kinshella was tossed for the loss, giving up 12 hits in his inaugural setback.

Baum's mustered answers from Alex McCraight who rapped two for three and Ted Marken who socked a triple in three trips.

McCraight belted a long fly ball to right field after Steve Baker and Mike Pratt got aboard on singles to spark a two-run first inning rally. When the rightfielder dropped the fly, Baum had two unearned runs on the scoreboard.

Cue's made its move in the second inning and took command when Ott singled home Don Osak who also got on an error. The victors went up by one run, 4-3, when John Haney sacrificed.

In other Thursday night games, 5 Points rallied for two runs in the bottom of the sixth to turn back Romulus Press Repair, 4-2, for their second win in seven starts.

Doubles by Dick Devielmo and Bill Hudy, a sacrifice fly ball from Bill Lewandowski and a single by Jim Franklin sparked Five Points' rally.

Lewandowski also starred on defense coming up with some spectacular catches. Ed Hungerford was the winning pitcher.

Scores reported last week on Tuesday included: Anchor Block 10, Walter's Bar 2; Alden Electric 11, Gray's Team 10; Romulus Progressive 11, Romulus Crusaders 3; Cue Corners 3, Metro Radiator 2 (8 innings); and Baum Funeral II, Five Points 1.

Thursday night scores were: Cue Corner 7, Baum's 4; Anchor Block 16, Romulus Crusaders 3; Walter's Bar 9, Gray's Team 1; Five Points 4, Romulus Press Repair 2; Alden Electric 8, Romulus Progressive 6.

THE SPORTS MERIDIAN

By Tom Mooradian

Something About Mediocrity

A little nonsense now and then, the old nursery rhyme says, is relished by the best of men.

And though this article may be boo-hoed as sheer nonsense by the best of men, we feel it has to be said.

No one these days, not even the U.S. Senators, rewards mediocrity. And, after intensive soul-searching and data reviewing, we couldn't award a "Coach of the Year" title in baseball to anyone in the Associated Newspapers area this year.

It's the first time, in the past five years anyway, that any of our minions failed to qualify for the honor.

Though two coaches, Franklin's Ron Hellier and Romulus' Lowell Johnson came awfully near of being drafted for the job, we shied away, however, after a close inspection of the records.

Hellier, a second year coach at Franklin had a respectable 11-7 season including a semi-final finish at the tough annual Les Anders' Memorial Tournament.

But the Pats finished in a two-way tie for fourth in the Northwest Suburban Conference and "that ain't too good";

Meanwhile, Johnson's team finished the season with a 10-6-1 record and a tie with Willow Run for second place in the 4-team Twin Valley Conference.

Hellier and Johnson carded the best records of any in the area — but still not good enough to warrant the Coach of the Year distinction, in our opinion. And many other coaches felt the same way.

Three schools — Cherry Hill (7-7), St. Mary's of Wayne (5-5) and Garden City East (7-7) broke even, while one other, Wayne Memorial (7-8) was shy one victory of the .500 mark.

Other area schools compiled the following records: John Glenn (7-10), Garden City West (6-12), Huron (5-16), Belleville (3-13) and Inkster (1-12), which, of course, amounts to a lot of frustrations.

Oh, well, coach — you can't win 'em all.

Of Winning and Losing

On the "brighter" side, did you ever hear of the minister who often played golf with a layman of his church but never won a hole? One day the layman sank a four-footer to win again and the minister's jaw sagged.

"Don't feel badly, Reverend," said the layman. "One day you will stand over me and say, 'Ashes to ashes, dust to dust...'"

"True," replied the minister, "but it will still be your hole."

Speaking of losing, coach Hellier still hasn't got over that 4-3 loss suffered to city rival, Livonia Churchill at the Les Anders' tournament recently.

Leading 3-0 till the last of the seventh, the Patriots blew it 4-3 and were blown out of the tournament.

Who did he blame?

"I can't blame any one individual for the loss," said the Franklin coach. "It was a real team effort."

And showing some real team spirit this season is Wayne Post III which has taken command of first place in the 16th district. Most of the players are from the area — Wayne High, John Glenn, Wayne Memorial with some kids coming to the team as far away as Riverview.

Not only did the high school athletic directors urge the boys to try out for the teams, according to manager Bob Eisiminger, but the ADs also donated baseballs to the club.

"It was swell of these guys—Bill Elliott, Don Domke, George Szitchan and Manny Lentine — to help us out," said manager Eisiminger. "We really appreciate their support and help."

"Now if we can only repay them by winning the championship, that'd be something, wouldn't it?" he added.

It sure would.

Nodouble Will Head Michigan Mile Field

Detroit Race Course, Livonia, Michigan—One of the most out-standing, competitive fields in the 22-year history of the classic appears likely for the 1970 running of the Michigan Mile Saturday, June 20, with Verna Lea Farm's Nodouble heading the list of 40 nominees announced today by Paul R. Ryder, Vice-President and General Manager of the Detroit Race Course.

A comparative unknown when he upset the famed Damascus to win the 1968 Mile, Nodouble's return to the DRC will bring the 5-year-old back as a solid threat to become the first thoroughbred ever to win Michigan's richest horse race for a second time.

Nodouble's victory by a head last Memorial Day in Belmont Park's $114,000 Metropolitan Mile, in track record time, marked his seventh triumph in a $100,000 race and brought his career earnings to $846,749.

A repeat as Michigan Mile champion would put Nodouble, who now is the leading money-winning horse in training, on the threshold of becoming an equine millionaire, for the purse in this year's running of the $100,000-added Mile is expected to be the richest of all time.

Seven of the rivals beaten by Nodouble in the Metropolitan are among the Mile nominees, including Ogen Phipps' Reviewer who lost to the top weighted Nodouble in the final stride.

Mile nominees also include two of Nodouble's All Area (Continued from 1st Sports) three doubles and 16 RBIs.

Newsome, the best over-all player at John Glenn, came to life in the latter part of the season and soared to a .305 hitting finish after a sluggish start.

A second baseman who didn't commit an error throughout the campaign, Newsome also was picked on the All-Northwest Suburban Conference team.

Delano will be back in coach Ron Smith's lineup again next season after hitting .305 in the recently concluded campaign.

"He came up with clutch hits that helped us to a couple of our wins," said coach Smith. "And he has the potential to develop into one of the best hitters in this area."

Briggs round's out the infield, returning to third base, a position he played on the All-Area team last year. One of the top hitters in the area this season, Briggs completed his prep career with a .375 batting average.

A senior who will be college bound next year, fans will eventually hear a lot about this Glenn slugger in the future.

Gracia and Suemnick battled over .400 for Huron and were among the bright spots in what was rather a dull year for the Chiefs who were knocked out of title contention after the third week of play.

But no one can blame Suemnick or Gracia for the losing year. They contributed more than their share.

Suemnick batted .439, going to the plate 47 times and collecting 25 hits. He also scored 22 times and stole 14 bases. A three-sport man who is one of the top guards on the basketball team, Butch should have all eyes on him in his senior year.

Gracia, who finished with a .412 average, also drove in 20 runs with his 21 hits in 51 plate appearances.

With the two outfielders back and Delano at short, watch out for Huron next year.

Ypsilanti To Host Power Boat Races

The National Power Boat Association Inboard Championship races will again be conducted at Ypsilanti's Ford Lake. The races, sponsored by the Ypsilanti Jaycees will be staged from July 24 to July 26.

Entries from all parts of the United States, Canada and other foreign countries are expected to make up the field that will compete in eight separate national race categories.

In addition to national titles, the event champs will also be awarded trophies for the first three places — $500 per class prize money and other cash and merchandise prizes.

A special feature has been added to the Sunday, July 26 championship race which will be carried on statewide television. A spectacular 15-mile invitational Grand Prix for the 266 cubic inch, seven litre, and the European 90 Kilogram classes will be run with the winners sharing $1,800 in prize money and trophies.

The Ypsilanti Jaycees are experienced in Hydro-Plane Racing, having hosted the meet for the past four years.

Ford Lake is adjacent to the I-94 Expressway between Detroit and Ann Arbor.

Recreation Sites Are Approved

BELLEVILLE—The Van Buren Township Board and Recreation Commission are sponsoring a Summer Recreation Program.

At the July 9 session of the Van Buren Board of Education, approval was granted to the township and recreation commission to use two of the school district's schools, Dale E. Kaulitz, School Superintendent announced.

Belleville Evens Up Record

Belleville evened up its Connie Mack League record last week as Ed Braham tossed a three-hitter in shutting out Godfrey Movers 4-0.

In their league opener, Belleville was the 3-0 victim of a shutout inflicted by Ann Arbor Federal.

FURTHER METRO EXPANSION ASSURED—County officials were in New York City last week to deliver $69 million in Detroit Metropolitan Wayne County Airport revenue bonds to a syndicate headed by the firm of Smith, Barney & Co. The company was the low bidder on the interest to be paid on the bonds. The money will be used in the first phase of a $250 million expansion program. Seen here from left to right are Wayne County Prosecutor William L. Cahalan; Robert Edwards, of Smith, Barney & Co.; William E. Kreger, chairman of the Board of Wayne County Road Commissioners, which operates the airport and Louis H. Funk, Wayne County Treasurer.

Prosecutor, Sheriff Get Staff Manpower Increases

Expansion of the Prosecuting Attorney's staff and a new organized crime unit coordinated by the Sheriff were given immediate approval at the latest meeting of the Wayne County Board of Commissioners.

The Board also:
* Declared "in principle" its intention to merge the offices of County Clerk and Register of Deeds at the end of their present terms.

* Approved $2,875,000 in capital improvements projects, primarily building improvements at Wayne County General Hospital and the County Jail.

* Passed a resolution urging approval of the Wayne County Community College millage proposition which will be on the Aug. 4 primary election ballot.

The Commissioners, meeting June 4, approved 10 new assistant prosecuting attorney positions. In requesting the increase, Prosecuting Attorney William L. Cahalan said his caseload has risen to the point that his assistants often try cases with little or no preparation.

Cahalan had requested 13 more assistants in his current budget, but was granted only two more. He said he will scale down next year's budget request as a result of the Board's action.

The organized crime surveillance unit is being established with the aid of a $107,800 Federal grant under the Omnibus Crime Control and Safe Streets Program. The Sheriff and 16 local police departments will pool their resources to establish an undercover unit which will concentrate on organized criminal activities.

The Board of Commissioners approved the assignment of one detective sergeant and two patrolmen to the unit — the equivalent of a $41,000 matching contribution to the program.

The Board adopted a resolution declaring "in principle" its intention to merge the elective offices of County Clerk and Register of Deeds when their present terms expire at the end of 1972. Specific legal language will be adopted later.

The action amends a 1959 resolution providing for the merger when a vacancy occurs in either office. The amendment was recommended by the Board's special committee on county reorganization.

The capital improvements program calls for: $1.3 million in improvements and expansions at Wayne County General Hospital, primarily in the obstetrical, newborn nursery and adult intensive care operations; and $1.5 million for ventilation and electrical improvements at the Jail.

Circuit Court jury facilities will be improved at a cost of $45,000 and detailed plans for renovation of the Old County Building will be prepared at a cost of $30,000.

The Commissioners also reserved $460,000 in capital improvement funds to match State, Federal and foundation funds which are anticipated for construction of a new Cooperative Extension Service Center in the city of Wayne.

The resolution supporting the Community College's bid for voter approval of a one-mill ($1 per $1,000 of equalized valuation) describes the school as "essential" to the well-being of the people of Wayne County.

It was pointed out that a $1.6 million state grant to the college, probably will be dependent on approval of the millage.

This year the college had 15,000 students attending evening classes at 29 "borrowed" locations throughout the County. The college wishes to add daytime classes and begin developing its own facilities.

Belleville Hosts Seminar For Area Bus Drivers

BELLEVILLE—More than 300 school bus drivers from 20 local school districts held a two-day series of classes and driving tests at Belleville High School June 15-16.

Classes and driving tests will be conducted by members of the Michigan State Police, the Wayne County Intermediate School District, Eastern and Western Michigan Universities, and the Michigan Department of Education.

By law all school bus drivers are required to take twelve clock hours of educational classes and tests each year to be certified. The Belleville workshop sessions, 28 classes and tests, replace the fall and winter classes usually held during afternoon and evening hours.

Bus drivers during the July Education sessions will meet in large and small class groups. A list of the classes is as follows:

* MECHANICS — Basic mechanical knowledge of interest to all drivers.

* BUS BODY — Drivers will have an opportunity to discuss bus body and designs with body representatives.

* SPECIAL EDUCATION — The handling of various types of handicapped children.

* FIRST AID — An approved Red Cross first-aid program.

* SCHOOL BOARD PANEL — The viewpoint of the entire transportation program as seen through the eyes of school board members.

* NEW DRIVERS — Designed to fit the needs of beginners with special emphasis on use of fire extinguishers, "staging out" a vehicle, emergency drills, use of fuses, etc.

* STATE POLICE — New laws and interpretations as enforced by the state police.

* PSYCHO-PHYSICAL TESTING — A testing procedure that actually measures a driver's brake reaction time, night vision, lateral distance, etc.

* PRACTICAL PSYCHOLOGY — Methods of dealing with problem children.

* SKID TECHNIQUES — In addition to the classroom instruction provided all participants, an opportunity to drive or ride on a prepared parking surface in a special car with tire slicks will be offered each enrollee.

No State Education Aid Bill Threatens School Districts

LANSING—Figures released this week by State Rep. Richard Young (D-Deerborn Heights) indicate that western Wayne County school districts have much to lose if the legislature fails to reach a decision on a new state aid bill for education.

While the proposals made by Governor William Milliken, the State Senate and the House of Representatives all call for state aid boosts in most area school districts, a failure to pass any bill at all would reduce state aid in every district.

The figures show that the proposals for state aid made by Governor Milliken would generally give area districts the smallest increase.

The Republican-controlled Senate plan calls for slightly larger increases generally, and the Democratic-controlled House plan calls for larger increases yet.

A joint Senate-House committee is now working on a compromise between the Senate and House bills, and the result will probably call for state aid increases somewhere in between the Senate and House versions.

One of the members of the committee is State Sen. William Faust (D-Westland). According to Rep. Young's figures area districts would receive the following allotments:

Cherry Hill School District: Last year's allotment was $362.25 per pupil; the Milliken plan would add $30.29; the Senate plan would add $43.21, and the House version would add $154.24. No bill at all would result in a $16.26 loss.

Garden City School District: Last year's allotment was $398.98 per pupil; the Milliken plan would add $21.52, the Senate bill would add $52.36, the House bill would add $157.41 and no bill at all would mean a $13.09 cut.

Inkster School District: Last year's allotment was $417.10 per pupil; the Milliken plan would add $17.16, the Senate plan would add $56.90, the House bill would add $158.98 and no bill at all would mean an $11.52 cut.

Livonia Public Schools: Last year's allotment was $257.21 per pupil; the Milliken plan would add $22.84, the Senate plan would add $22.27, the House plan would add $98.58 and no bill at all would mean a $13.10 cut.

Plymouth Community Schools: Last year's allotment was $210.19 per pupil; the Milliken plan would mean a loss of $9.63 per pupil, the Senate plan would add $1.15 per pupil, the House plan would add $32.04 and no bill at all would mean a $17.19 loss.

Romulus Community Schools: Last year's allotment was $228.31 per pupil; the Milliken plan would add $2.87, the Senate plan would add $9.27, the House plan would add $57.66, and no bill at all would mean a $15.62 loss.

Wayne Community Schools: Last year's allotment was $314.47 per pupil; the Milliken plan would add $41.72, the Senate plan would add $31.27, House bill would add $150.18 and no bill at all would mean a $20.42 loss.

Westwood Community Schools: Last year's allotment was $285.18 per pupil; the Milliken plan would add $42.16, the Senate plan would add $34.82, the House bill would add $138.16 and no bill at all would mean a $10.68 loss.

Huron Schools: Last year's allotment was $336.09 per pupil; the Milliken plan would add $36.52, the Senate plan would add $36.63 the house plan would add $151.92 and no bill at all would mean a loss of $18.57.

Van Buren Schools: Last year's allotment was $232.26 per pupil; the Milliken plan would add $5.60, the Senate plan would add $11.05, the House plan would add $63.25 and no bill at all would mean a $15.28 loss.

Meetings Scheduled

ROMULUS—Members of City Council have been invited by communications to attend a School Board meeting and Romulus Housing Commission session.

The Romulus Board of Education requested a joint meeting with City Council at the Board of Education offices June 29.

Sommerville Leaves Woodson School

INKSTER—The Inkster Board of Education accepted the resignation of Dr. Joseph Sommerville as principal of the Woodson School last week.

Dr. Sommerville, who has been on a leave of absence to complete his doctoral studies at the University of Michigan, has accepted a position as associate professor of school administration at the University of Toledo.

"With the close proximity of Toledo to Inkster I shall look forward to maintaining a continuous warm personal relationship with the Inkster School District," Dr.

Sommerville said in his letter of resignation.

"Dr. Sommerville's efforts on behalf of the youth in this district in general and the Woodson School in particular will be long remembered," said School Superintendent Dr. Edward Fort.

SEARCH FOR ATTIC LEAKS — Tiny streaks of sunlight and water stains on rafters and studs are clues to roof leaks in an unfinished attic. If the attic is finished or insulated, look for wet spots after a rain. To locate holes from the outside, push a wire through them from the attic.

USE ROOFING CEMENT — Roofing cement leaks around the chimney flashing, the first spot to look for leaks on a roof. Renail large gaps. Seal cracks where the old cement has pulled away from the flashing, shingles or bricks by using a putty knife or brush and a substantial amount of roofing cement.

CHECK ALL PROJECTIONS — Soil pipes, like chimneys, are often sources of leaks in attics. Repair them by coating the joint between the outer sleeve and pipe with either a putty knife or brush. Apply a heavy coating of cement to edges and exposed surface of the flashing and to all nailheads.

Gutters Need Regular Check

A twice-yearly inspection and repair of gutters and downspouts will double or triple the life of your roof drainage system.

It is best to inspect just before spring rains and just after leaves fall.

Standing water causes most gutter troubles. All gutters must be pitched slightly toward downspout openings. Water fails to run off when the pitch is lost.

Check gutters by pouring water in them and observing speed and direction of flow. Control pitch by adjusting or replacing hangers.

Standing water may also be the result of leaves or other debris clogging gutters and downspouts. A whisk broom or glazier's knife will generally take care of that problem.

If a downspout is clogged, the chances are you will find wet leaves trapped in an elbow joint. Remove the elbow and clean it. Forcing leaves down the drain may only cause worse stoppage.

Temporary repairs for holes in gutters may be made with plastic roofing cement. Clean the gutter around the hole and prefit patch of heavy roofing paper. Apply cement to metal, spreading it out fairly thin.

Press the patch into place over hole. Spread excess cement over edges of patch to form watertight seal between metal and patch.

Finish the job by coating the patch with cement. Patch will last for some time, but it's best to replace gutter.

Make Your Roof Watertight

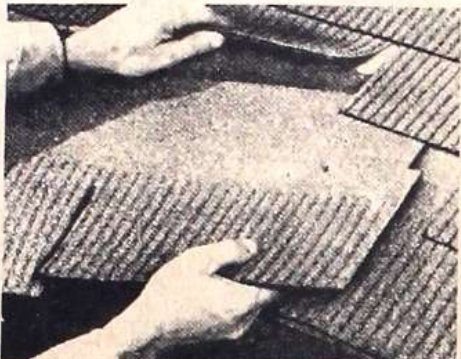

ILLUSTRATION 2.

Seeping Causes Damage

Water seeping into your home over a period of time can cause serious damage anywhere from attic to basement.

Cracks in siding and foundation will let in their share of water, but those faults are generally easy to locate as soon as they occur.

However, tiny leaks in the roof, mud- and leaf-clogged gutters, ill-fitting downspouts, and loose and crumbling mortar joints in the chimney may not be so apparent until water spots appear on your ceilings or walls.

A careful inspection of attic and roof will reveal most of the flaws that could later cause grief.

When you're scheduling roof work, it's best to pick a warm day, not only for reasons of comfort but for ease of handling materials. Composition shingles, roofing cement, and calk all are more pliable when they're warm.

When you check the roof, seal the exposed roof nails with roofing cement after you hammer them back in. Nails often work loose and let water seep through the roof into rafters and walls. The heads of nails that fasten box-type gutters onto the house should also be covered to prevent leakage.

Replace any loose or broken shingles as soon as they're located to prevent the early replacement of the entire roof. If the roof is in bad condition, reshingle it to avoid damage to your house.

Benefit Successful

It's Easy To Replace Damaged Shingles

If a composition shingle is damaged, you should replace it.

Loosen the nails in the shingle above the damaged one. Slip a flat spade (Illustration 1) under the shingle without damaging it. Sharp edge of the spade will lift nails. Replace shingle on a warm day when material is pliable.

Roofing cement sticks down shingles when they won't lie flat. Use cement sparingly.

Insert the new shingle (Illustration 2), renail shingle above it. Try to use the same nail holes, covering nail heads with roofing cement. With roofing nails, secure new shingle, placing nails where old one had been.

Stop leaking of split wooden shingle by driving prefitted square of aluminum or galvanized sheet (Illustration 3). Metal should be big enough to fit under upper and center shingles. Nail if necessary.

Liquor Commission Acts On Area Cases

The Michigan Liquor Control Commission has announced the following activity in the western Wayne County area:

Frank J. Essa, Wayne Medicine Mart, 1203 S. Wayne Rd., Westland, received a $300 fine and a 30-days suspension effective July 6, for allowing indecent or obscene magazines on premises. The charge was made October 16, 1969, and hearings were held Dec. 29 and Feb. 16.

Howard O. Gabbert Jr., Middlebelt-Sibley Party Store, 18957 Middlebelt, Romulus, had a charge of selling to a minor dismissed at a hearing June 1.

Earl W. Payette, Rampart Street, 30325 W. Six Mile Rd., Livonia, received a $100 fine for having premises occupied after the legal hour.

PCHA Prepares Laundry System

WAYNE—Peoples Community Hospital Authority has received approval of a $250,000 Federal grant to assist in the financing of its $1,580,500 central laundry to be constructed at Annapolis Hospital in Wayne.

Announcement of the grant came from the office of Congressman William D. Ford in Washington and the Michigan Department of Public Health in Lansing. In his telegram to Dr. Karl S. Klicka, Executive Director of the Authority, Cong. Ford stated that the Department of Health, Education and Welfare had approved the funds under the Hill-Burton Act.

Plans and specifications for the new laundry facility were approved by the PCHA Board of Directors at its May meeting.

"Our very thorough investigation of the laundry equipment presently available on the market has convinced us that the Poensgen system is a major break-through in the field of materials handling in hospitals," Dr. Klicka added. "All the laundry processing for the four PCHA hospitals will be handled by this central facility. It also has capacity to handle the proposed fifth PCHA hospital unit in the City of Taylor."

PCHA currently operates two laundries, one at its Annapolis Hospital and another at Outer Drive Hospital.

MSU Students Blast Criticism Of Wharton

To The Editor:

In regards to the editorial article of Mr. John P. McGoff, entitled "Time to Appraise University Leaders", printed in Associated Newspapers, June 3, 1970.

In his editorial comment, Mr. McGoff criticized MSU's President Clifton R. Wharton's statements, in his commencement address to the graduating class of John Hopkins University, concerning American foreign policy.

Mr. McGoff stated, "Mr. Wharton's qualifications as a foreign policy expert are slim." He did concede President Wharton's attainment of a master's degree from the school International Studies at John Hopkins University.

However, he tactfully failed to mention numerous other qualifications of President Wharton in the field of foreign affairs, which include: from 1948-53, he headed the reports and analysis department for the American International Association for Economic and Social Development created by Gov. Nelson Rockefeller; in 1957, he was an executive associate for the Agricultural Development Council and stationed, until 1964, in Malaysia, where he was concerned with programs in Vietnam, Thailand, and Cambodia.

During this time he also taught and conducted research as a visiting professor at the University of Malaysia. He specialized in the economic development of Latin America prior to his work in Asia, and served as a member of Gov. Rockefeller's 1969 presidential mission to Latin America. He is a trustee or director of the Asia Society and the Overseas Development Council, he is a member of the Board on Science and Technology for International Development of the National Academy of Sciences.

He was a member of the Advisory Panel on East Asian and Pacific Affairs of the U.S. Department (AID). He is currently serving on the Advisory Council of the School of Advanced International Studies of John Hopkins University. He was, in 1966, a member of the Presidential task force on agriculture in Vietnam and recently served on the United Nations Association of the U.S. panel devoted to world population and the quality of human development.

He has been a consultant to the government of Malaysia, to the Mekong Committee of ECAFE (United Nations Regional Economic Commission for Asia and the Far East) and to the Asian Development Bank. He has served on the Committee on World Hunger of the Executive Council of the Episcopal Church and on the Committee on Content of the U.S. National Council of Churches and Roman Catholic Church joint program on world development.

The aforementioned qualifications are by no means inclusive of President Wharton's accomplishments. Thus, we believe Mr. McGoff was grossly inaccurate in labeling President Wharton's American foreign affairs credentials as inadequate.

We suggest that in the future, before discrediting an individual's qualifications, Mr. McGoff would be wise to research the individual's background.

Reader Backs McGoff On Wharton Editorial

To The Editor:

An open letter to John P. McGoff, president of Panax Corporation.

When writing an editorial such as you did in your June 3 edition of the Plymouth Eagle, you are sticking your neck out without really knowing the tenor of your readers. It takes courage.

This reader figures you hit the nail squarely on the head and commends you for your well turned out editorial and the courage to print it.

The mouthings of many of us have appeared in print and have been digested approvingly by many of our fellow citizens.

Chairman Thanks Concerned Citizens

To The Editor:

I wish to thank all the fine citizens of Wayne who helped make the 1970 Muscular Dystrophy Association's recent "March Against Time" a success. The contributions are used to maintain a broad-based program of scientific research which includes, in addition to clinical studies, fundamental investigations into nerves, muscles and metabolism.

KEN WARFIELD
MDAA Community Chairman

However, these bear no relation to the impact created by an editorial such as yours. It seems as though the source makes all the difference in the authenticity and the effectiveness. What we need then, is more of such offerings from people who have the public ear, such as yourself.

To me, the fellow with the most degrees who base some far out proposal on the strength of these degrees and proceeds to challenge objectors holding no such exalted pieces of windwadding is a person of whom I am extremely dubious. Now so, unfortunately, with most others. The advanced degree appears to be the Koran or its equivalent, sweeping all in its path. It takes a good man to make a multi-degree holder such as Wharton clearly visible in his true aura of ineptitude.

Again, my compliments for a piece well done.

Objection Raised To McGoff Comments

To the Editor:

Expressing his "viewpoint", Mr. McGoff, the president of Panax Corp., took MSU President Wharton to task for daring to devote his commencement address at Johns Hopkins University to U.S. foreign policy. According to Mr. McGoff, Dr. Wharton's qualifications as a foreign policy expert are "slim."

It is obvious that Mr. McGoff has not done his homework. Since it was Johns Hopkins which asked Dr. Wharton to speak on foreign affairs, it seemingly was satisfied with his qualifications. As the son of an outstanding career diplomat, Dr. Wharton was weaned on diplomacy and international relations.

It would appear difficult to find someone with more qualifications than Dr. Wharton to discuss U.S. policy in regard to agrarian reform in Southeast Asia, but perhaps Mr. McGoff is just a hard man to satisfy. In any event, it seems obvious that Dr. Wharton's expertise in Southeast Asian matters exceeds Mr. McGoff's knowledge of university administration.

Broadway's Best Makes A Slim Season

By HOWARD ALLEN
Panax Amusement Critic

NEW YORK — Although this has been one of the slimmest seasons in New York history — it's far too expensive to gamble on Broadway any more — there has been some quality, notably two dramas, "Child's Play" and "Borstal Boy."

It's been a long time since there was a good thriller on the Rialto, but "Child's Play," at the Royale, more than makes up for the wait with a visit to a highly gothic boys Catholic school. It is played without intermission, ostensibly to prevent a break in the mood, but more probably because paralysis sets in early and breathing is not resumed until curtain calls.

Pat Hingle is a lovable old senior lay teacher at St. Charles' — if Robert Marasco's taut script can be faulted it is for larding Dobbs' benevolence on so thickly as to make Mr. Chips vicious by comparison.

Dobbs is disturbed, as are the other teachers, by an unexplained outbreak of sadistic behavior among the students. The boys attack each other in successively more terrifying outbursts of savagery, as puzzling as its pacific acceptance by the victims. A boy's eye is put out in the gym. Another is crucified in the chapel.

Fritz Weaver, as Malley, a martinet hated by the boys for his tyranny, is the seeming pariah. But Malley is more oppressed than oppressor; he is the chief target of a virulent poison pen attack, slowly destroying his sanity.

Director Joseph Hardy maintains an unbearably harrowing tempo, set in Jo Mielziner's somber Gothic school. Weaver's performance is especially convincing and utterly deadly. "Child's Play" is the best example of grand guignol in years.

New officers for 1970-71 have been elected by the Board of Commissioners of the Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Authority, a regional park agency serving the citizens of the counties of Livingston, Macomb, Oakland, Washtenaw and Wayne.

The election was held at the monthly meeting of the Board of Commissioners which was held at Lower Huron Metropolitan Park near Belleville last week.

The HCMA Officers are elected for one year and they are: Kurt R. Keydel, who represents the district-at-large, is chairman. He has served on the HCMA Board since July of 1964, when he was appointed by then Governor George Romney. Keydel is a managing partner in the Keydel Company of Detroit, and is also on the Wayne State University Board of Governors.

He is president of Abend Post, Michigan's only German-language newspaper. He is a member of the Detroit Boat Club, Detroit River Yachting Association and Detroit Harmonie Club. Keydel resides at 2940 Seminole Street, Detroit.

Keydel succeeds James Clarkson, HCMA Chairman for the past two years. Clarkson represents Oakland County and resides in "Child's Play" copped all the Emmies except best play — that one went to "Borstal Boy," at the Lyceum, a play by Dublin's Abbey Players which allows you to spend an evening with that excellent drinking companion and, when his throat was suitably soothed, teller of tales, Brendan Behan.

Frank McMahon has adapted Behan's memoirs and, sure, there is himself, reminiscing about his youth in the Irish Republican Army, still seeking in the late thirties to remain the six northern counties through a campaign of bombing and terror against England.

Behan was sent on such a mission. He was caught and spent three years in an English borstal, or reformatory. Before his trial, however, he was confined in Walton jail where brutal anti-Irish guards beat him so severely that his liver and kidneys were permanently damaged and unable to bear the strain of his later drinking. He died at 41.

But "Borstal Boy" is no tragedy. A song and a chuckle is Behan's metier and his instinctive poetry is often lyric. Behan is quick with a gentle quip, as when he replies to a jailmate seeking to assure him that not all Waltons are anti-Irish: "Oh, sure. We're very popular — among ourselves."

Such is Behan's flavor and director Tomas MacAnna recognizes that Behan does not hurry his tale. Thus his pace is somewhat leisurely. But the Irish are engaging pub companions, even at their own pace, as is Naill Toibin as the elder Behan relating his youthful adventures, and Frank Grimes as the younger Behan living them.

"Borstal Boy" is vital and earthy. It may lack absolute consistency, but isn't that the way of an Irish flight of fancy anyway.

If things are slow on Broadway this year, they're busier than ever off-Broadway. "Adaptation," at the Greenwich Mews, Elaine May's tart examination of contemporary life, is a one-acter paired with Terrence McNally's "Next."

"Adaptation" seeks to destroy the facades of contemporary American life by subjecting a specimen suburbanite to the game of life as personified by a television game show. On a giant and gaudy game board, two players and an emcee lead their victim in search of success — but not to Boardwalk or Park Place. In this game the squares are Identity, Adjustment, Emotional Crisis and Maturity.

Inkster Couple Will Introduce Camp Fire Girls To Indian Lore

INDIAN CLOTHING--Holding an Indian headdress and decorated shirt are Ben and Andrea Lanford of Inkster, who are program director and camp director for the Camp Fire Girls' Camp Wathana near Holly.

INKSTER--An Inkster couple will be at Camp Wathana (Beautiful Place) near Holly, Mich., this summer to show Camp Fire Girls American Indian Life "the way it is and the way it was."

Andrea Lanford, during the school year a teacher at Robichaud High, in the Westwood district is camp director and Ben Lanford is camp program director.

Ben Lanford is concerned about the "romantic Indian lore" that is taught to Camp Fire Girls. At the camp the girls will learn that a "pow-wow" is nothing but an Indian get-together and that most Indian dances are just for fun.

Lanford stocks an Indian museum at the camp from his own private collection of art, clothing and hand crafts. When the collection is not on display at the camp, it is stored at a museum.

The girls will also learn that what is often referred to as "ceremonial" dress does not have religious significance, but would be better referred to as Indian "best dress".

The older girls at the camp will have a chance to sleep overnight in a tipi, the dwelling of the Plains Indians, or the waganagan, the dome-shaped dwelling of Woodland Indians.

The campers will also learn some Indian craft such as beadwork or quillwork, which is making designs and decorating clothing from porcupine quills.

Older girls will have a chance to take part in a special Indian Lore unit called Chanku Sha, meaning "Red Way" or "Red Road." In addition to spending a night in the tipi, these girls will have Indian meal cookouts, make Indian dresses and learn Indian dances and games.

On their final day at camp, the girls will use this knowledge to take part in a pow-wow.

Among the dances they will learn will be the war dance, the two-step dance, stomp dance, belt dance, round dance and 49 dance.

One of the games they will play is "hoop and spear". A willow hoop, a foot in diameter with a network of rawhide is rolled between two teams.

Each team throws sticks at the hoop, hoping to enmesh them in the rawhide. At the end of each roll, the number of sticks each team gets in the hoop are counted. The team with the highest number is the winner.

Another game that is still a favorite among many Indians in the Great Lakes and Plains regions is "bowl and dice." A small bowl is used to toss button-like dice, which are plain on one side and marked on the other.

The Potawatomi play bowl and dice with dice marked on one side with a turtle and the other with a bear. The bear can be made to stand but it is difficult to do. If someone throws the dice and the bear stands, the thrower is automatically winner of the game.

The girls in the Indian Lore unit will also learn how to prepare Indian stews and soups, pan-baked and fried bread and wild foods, such as wild tea, cattail roots, and milkweed pods. In addition, they'll learn how to make Indian desserts such as corn meal pudding.

This is Andrea and Ben Lanford's fourth year at Camp Wathana. Andrea said she has always been interested in camping and has worked with Campfire Girls since she got out of college.

Ben, who earned a bachelor of arts at the University of the Americas in Mexico City, is currently working on a master of arts degree in Spanish and a teacher's certificate. He is also a substitute teacher at Robichaud.

Although the Lanfords are most involved with the camp during the summer, this year from June 22 to Aug. 20, they often give lectures, demonstrate Indian crafts or do Indian dances at programs throughout the year.

Andrea Lanford said she became interested in Indians later in life, but Ben said, "Ever since I was a child I enjoyed Indian things. Whenever we played cowboys and Indians, I was always an Indian."

Lanford belonged to an Indian dance group as a youth and has travelled all over America visiting Indian reservations. He even took advantage of his college days in Mexico to study Indian culture there.

The information he has gleaned about Indians has come from many sources, including the studying of several eastern states; associating with collectors and museum people; and just "being around" Indians.

Lanford said very few universities have programs of Indian studies. There are some in the southwest, but they deal mainly with Indian tribes of that region.

"Very few people have gone into it," he said. "It is impossible to get scholastic materials."

Through his studies Lanford has come to appreciate the Indian way of life and is very concerned about the unfortunate image Indians have in America.

For example, Lanford does not like the use of terms like squaw and savage that are popular due, in part, to Western movies and books.

As a student of Indian culture, he was particularly disturbed about a recently-released movie entitled, "A Man Called Horse"--which was advertised as being authentic.

Even though most of the movie was in Lakota, a dialect of the western Sioux, Lanford said it was misrepresentative in many ways.

One tenet of Indian life, he said, is that all individuals in the group are accepted and cared for. The movie shows a woman, whose son has died, being left to die because she has no one to hunt buffalo for her.

"This would never happen," Lanford said emphatically.

The movie also emphasized the "sun dance" as a torture that the white hero must undergo to prove himself for a girl. Lanford said the "sun dance" was not regarded as torture by the Indians.

"Indians have a different attitude toward pain, attitude toward pain," Lanford said. "Children are to be accepted as a part of life."

Indians would often fast or punch holes in their arms with an awl-like instrument as a "flesh offering," as if to say to God, "I am giving back to you part of my body."

Lanford said the tipi, which he regards as an ingenious type of dwelling, was more than a home. It was also a temple, where the Indian would offer part of his food each time he ate on an earthen altar.

"The Indian relationship is with all things, not above all things," Lanford said.

Another American image of the Indian is as a stoic.

"This is probably true in front of whites," Lanford said. Although he emphasized that among themselves Indians are very lively and have a wonderful dry humor, Indian children are taught that boisterous activity is rude. "They probably thought whites were very crude," Lanford said.

Lanford also admires the Indian way of rearing children. There is no whipping, but this does not mean there is no discipline. Often the lowering of the face by a parent is enough to indicate to the child that he is bringing disgrace on the family by his behavior.

Indian parents are not over-protective either. The Indian attitude is that there is a lesson to be learned from every experience, even if it means being cut with a sharp knife.

The Lanfords will be at the camp for five 10- and 12-day sessions this summer. For more information about the camp, call the Camp Fire Girls Detroit Area Council at 833-2670.

Laws Needed To Boost Local Voter Turnout

The light voter turnout experience in almost every school district across western Wayne County last week leads us to believe that it may be time to look at Michigan's election laws.

A proposal currently before the state legislature seeks to combine school and local government elections with other state balloting in off-presidential even years.

The goal is, in part, to bring more voters to the polls to vote on local issues. Judging by the turnout June 8, there is definite merit in that approach.

Particularly in school districts where no millage or bond issue proposals were on the ballot, candidates for boards of education were elected with a mere smattering of local votes.

While the responsibility for voting remains with the individual it is incumbent upon political leaders to find ways to make it easier for the voters to express their wishes at the polls. Voters registration drives in recent years have had the same motivating factors in mind.

At the same time, the off-year election bill might have some debatable effects.

It is possible that the lumping of too many offices onto a single ballot will cause more problems than it is worth.

For instance, school and city boundary lines in western Wayne County do not coincide, and a great deal of juggling would be necessary to properly divide the precincts.

The ballot is sometimes too long for most voters to be properly informed about every office at stake, and the candidates who are running. A great number of uninformed voters could be the result

But, at the same time, it must seem obvious that something ought to be done about remedying the poor voter turnout for school elections, as well as elections for local government.

Voter education has been tried, of course, and the results have been relatively discouraging. In a country where only about 70 percent of the people vote for president, it is not surprising that contests on a lesser level draw an even smaller turnout.

Perhaps throwing all of the electoral decisions at the voters at once, and saving the voters some trips to the polls, voting will be made easy enough to bring a decent number of citizens out to vote. At least it might be worth trying.

It is difficult to force citizens to be informed about and show an interest in the decisions that are to be made at the polls during any election year. Indeed, it is more common to hear citizens complain that too much time is devoted to political activities every year.

To this extent, it must always be remembered that the voters, by their ballots, or their inaction, will get the kind of government or school administration they want.

We believe an adjustment of voting patterns in Michigan should be explored now to discover where and when improvements can be made in bringing voters to the polls.

While we think the voters themselves must ultimately live with the decisions made at the polls, we also believe it is the responsibility of government to give the public will every reasonable chance to be heard.

Lockwood Has A Date In A Midnight Caucus

BY DON HOENSCHHELL

LANSING — Those smoke-filled rooms have more ash trays now and more people wear neckties but they are still the dispensaries of joy or despair for politicians.

It is the latter day version of tossing the Christians to the lions with a touch of Hamlet tossed in.

Both parties keep the tradition alive in Michigan, but observe the nicety of jargon — calling them Midnight Caucuses.

The Midnight Caucus fills the statewide party slate and those stout promises of open conventions — letting the delegates assembled make all the decisions — go aflittering.

Senator Emil Lockwood (R-Elm Hall) is in training for his audience in Grand Rapids on the midnight of Aug. 28 when Republicans will decide whether to back him for secretary of state.

"I think by that time I'll be able to prove to them I'll have the financial support I need and the votes to win," he said.

"I'll have the backing, both financially and from the delegates. There is some correlation between the two. I suppose it is possible to win other wise, but it's sure not likely."

Lockwood is a realist, but he's also aware of the exceptions.

Republican Alvin Bentley, of Owosso, had plenty of money but lost in every statewide bid. Republican Fred Matthei bought billboards by the gross but lost to Democrat Gerald Dunn in their race for the University of Michigan Board of Regents.

"It's possible to lose even with financial support, but it's rare," Lockwood said.

Lockwood spends a great deal of time on the telephone these days rounding up money and delegate support. He knows that while delegates still haven't been chosen, those who went to the convention last time are likely to go again.

His opponent at this time is Rep. Weldon O. Yeager (R-Detroit) who has not had the public exposure Lockwood has enjoyed as Senate Majority Leader before his resignation from that job.

Yeager earlier said he already has commitments from a majority of convention delegates — and until a week ago was freer to move around the state making friends.

Lockwood has campaign managers in six counties, including James Babcock, Alma College librarian in Gratiot County and county GOP vice chairman; Montcalm County Register of Deeds Don Taylor, former State Rep. Robert Montgomery in Clinton County and Ned Nelson, a longtime party worker in Eaton County.

He has bought his bumper stickers and pins for lapels, has had color and black and white portraits made, has hired a public relations firm, and has organized a central campaign team.

Lockwood will be extolled across the state by PR Associates, of Detroit, headed by Bev Beltaire, wife of Mark Beltaire, the Detroit Free Press columnist.

If nominated, Lockwood sees virtue in Gov. Milliken's plan to coordinate the campaigns of all candidates. Somebody, he said, has got to sort out the public relations gents.

"Each of the candidates will have his own public relations firm and they should all be saying the same thing, at least things that don't conflict with each other," Lockwood said.

His legislative load has diminished dramatically — but Lockwood lends a hand in the arm-twisting department. In Lansing this is called compromise.

So that's the way Lockwood is getting ready for the Midnight Caucus — not appealing to voters at this time but building a record of money and strength within the party.

The door will open and arrayed at a table will be Gov. Milliken, State Chairman William McLaughlin and other party leaders, district chairman and a handful of aides.

Before the delegates have breakfast and walk the tunnel route from the Pantlind Hotel to the Grand Rapids Civic Center Auditorium, the ticket will be set.

And Lockwood will know whether his best performance — and whether his financial backing and delegate strength — was enough.

That's what happened in the Midnight Caucus which probably won't be as smoke-filled this year.

Thoughts . . .

Afraid Of New People?

By JIM CARRAVALLAH

Walk a mile near downtown Detroit, and see the new expressways. See Lafayette Park. See Wayne State University.

It's all beautiful, modern architecture, brassy, shiny, patterned stone. It's modern fragile bridges of aesthetic beauty.

It's streets like John C. Lodge, Edsel Ford, Fisher, Jefferies, and Chrysler. All are modern all are swift. All move suburbanites to the heart of Detroit.

Walk along the edges, and see homes. Imagine 5, 10, 15 years ago, when the homes were joined in one subdivision.

How many homes did they move for schools, apartments, freeways? How many families lost a place to stay?

Urban renewal beautified the city, and displaced thousands.

The federal government made low income housing available to these people, and now those who use the freeways, and the universities and the office buildings are complaining because low income families are moving out to their sanctums in the suburbs.

Surrey Heights residents complain, because low income houses are being built close to their own high cost, $30,000 homes. "These low income houses will reduce our own homes' valuations over the years," complained one resident.

Is that Surrey Heights' concern, really?

The low income houses inside Surrey Heights are grouped at one end of the subdivision, and are all in the $21,000 price range. The higher-priced homes are grouped at the other end.

"I don't see any affect on the valuation of the higher homes over the years, providing all homes in the area are kept up at approximately the same quality," said one area realtor. "I think they're complaining about the type of people who might move into the low income houses."

Homes don't lose valuation because of the proximity of lower-priced homes.

"It's been common for the past 20 years for a developer to build homes in one subdivision with a $10,000 price difference," said an FHA spokesman. "The low income houses in Surrey Heights are within that $10,000 price range difference, and are nice. I think they're worried about the people who will buy them."

He said the price difference will not detract from the valuation of the more expensive homes.

An informed city government source said, "There's no doubt the people are complaining about the possible residents. But they won't admit it. They're racially motivated."

"Let's face it," said another realtor, "the people who buy these homes are sometimes on ADC or relief. They're complaining about the people, not the homes."

Examine your consciences, Surrey Heights residents. Realtors, FHA spokesmen, and city officials agree, the low cost homes won't affect your property valuation. It's been a common practice for years.

Do you worry about the homes, or the people?

Lift Up Your Head

Wharton Sets Good Example

BY ROSEMARY WOLOCK

"Black Power" is a much misunderstood phrase that means many things to many people. To some people it conjures up fearful images of anarchy and violence, while others regard it as a powerful answer to the black man's problems.

To me the cry of black power means that black people are seeking to increase their power in all spheres of life so that they will have more influence over their own destinies.

In this way black power can be compared to the growing self-awareness on the part of any immigrant group. Thus we might use the term "Irish Power" to explain how Irish-Americans changed from an immigrant group that was looked down upon to one that produced a U.S. President and other prominent public figures.

Another phrase was added to this vocabulary Thursday night at Inkster High School. Dr. Clifton Wharton, speaking to 171 graduates and their parents and friends, talked about brainpower and black intellectual power.

The Michigan State University president told the group, "You and I know there are many people who do not have anything approaching a minimal standard of living. We must have the trained minds that can solve these problems."

"Many of these (problems) concern black people," he said. "They won't be solved until there is a core of black intellectual power."

Dr. Wharton added that, unlike material possessions, "the essence of this power is that it's completely yours. It cannot be taken away from you."

The university president said a college education could help black youths to better understand a hostile world, to cope with injustice and gain economic and political power.

Dr. Wharton's message was a worthwhile and inspiring one for the students who are planning on continuing their education. He may even have inspired a few more to seek a college career.

There was one flaw in his speech, however. He did not speak to those students who are not scholastically qualified or financially able to attend college.

There are many of them at Inkster High and it would have been appropriate to suggest ways, other than earning a university degree, that these youths could increase their black intellectual power.

But Dr. Wharton's presence alone, as a successful and prominent black man, served as a living example of what black people can do to achieve.

Natures Religious Reminder

In This Corner

Time For A Settlement

By DICK MCKNIGHT

The battle over who shall and shall not be allowed to leave the People's Community Hospital Authority (PCHA) is a fight that must end almost certainly in political settlement.

Politics may not appear to belong in the running of a chain of hospitals, but there is a good reason why the only logical settlement of the current controversy could well be found by political agreement.

On one hand we have the city of Dearborn Heights, and its mayor, John Canfield, a man with a strong political nature. Canfield would like to see the citizens of Dearborn Heights have their own hospital.

Canfield contends, and with some justification, that Dearborn Heights residents pay taxes to PCHA, but use many hospitals in Detroit and Dearborn. If a hospital is to be built at all in Dearborn Heights, Canfield would like to have it on home soil.

Also in favor of Dearborn Heights position is the idea that it is unfair to require a city to do something against its will—that is, to stay in PCHA. It smacks of heavy-handed tactics to deny the Dearborn Heights citizenry the right to leave.

On the other hand, it is no small concern of local officials, and PCHA authorities, that individual cities could be allowed to pull out of PCHA with little or no consideration of what might happen to the rest of the authority.

Could PCHA function for very long—expanding facilities, maintaining others, selling bonds etc.—when it is constantly threatened with the departure of one or more of its authority members? Many PCHA officials and community leaders feel the affect would not be good.

At the same time, PCHA hospitals are constantly being attacked for poor service, delays in admission, staff impoliteness and high costs. In this area, PCHA hospitals are no more immune from public criticism than any other public service agency.

PCHA officials staunchly defend the care patients receive in authority hospitals, and they are more right than wrong. Despite all the potshots, PCHA can be proud of what it has accomplished.

All of these things point to the fact that the PCHA problems will be solved not by consensus but by compromise. The solution won't be one that everyone will like, but will be one that everyone will be able to live with.

This is where politics enters. Somewhere a solution is waiting to be found, and through discussion it will eventually be a reality.

PCHA has a future in western Wayne County. Even if it is not growing fast enough to satisfy everyone, PCHA has something to offer those who are patient.

Election Day's Children Make Politics More Fun

LANSING -- Election Day's children are just like everybody else except they are forced to do their thing in public.

Some make it big on their own and others veer off under pressure onto courses uncharted for kids.

Sons of Michigan governors are always under a spotlight and when William Milliken Jr. drove into Lansing from Colorado College last week he kept alive a tradition.

"I drove all the way alone," he said. "I just put my trunk in the back, put the top down and drove. At night I slept in the car."

He is a handsome young man, favors his dad in looks and his flashing eyes show he doesn't miss much.

Mitt Romney, the son of former Gov. Romney, was all boy and now is all man. He was athletic and rugged and given to exercising in public, like his dad.

Mitt was once barred from a Saginaw hotel where his father was making a speech because he appeared wearing shorts, running shoes.

He was going for a jog and wanted to see his dad, he explained, and the police suddenly understood.

Before him came Peter Swainson, son of former Gov. Swainson, who had a flap with former House Speaker Don R. Pears (R-Buchanan) in 1962.

Peter, as a young lad, liked to come to work with his father, enjoyed the company of House pages and spent time with them. Pears viewed all this darkly and told him to leave.

Peter interrupted a press conference one day to tell his father he'd been fired by Pears. After negotiations, Peter went to work as a uniformed aide to then Lt. Gov. T. John Lesinski.

It all ended happily.

Gary Williams, son of former Gov. Williams, was a wrestler and football player at J. W. Sexton high school here. Teammates were known to wade into the stands at out-of-town football games to upbraid hecklers zeroing in on the governor's son.

In 1958, Gary was at a New Year's Eve teen party when sleet made the streets impassible in Lansing. So he walked to the Inauguration Day church service, arriving at 7 a.m. just as the acolyte was lighting the candles in St. Paul's Episcopal Church here.

The late former Gov. Kim Sigler did not have sons, but his predecessor, former Gov. Harry F. Kelly, now retiring as a Michigan Supreme Court Justice, did.

Brian Kelly is an actor and was the star of the television show, Flipper.

Going back still farther, the son of the late Gov. Frank D. Fitzgerald, John F. Fitzgerald, used to visit the capitol wearing pantaloons. He learned to like the place.

Young Fitzgerald came back as counsel for the Senate judiciary committee, was elected to the State Senate and now is one of Michigan's Appeals Court judges.

Young Bill Milliken recalled it all when he drove his car in from Colorado Springs, Colo., alone, with the top down -- and sleeping in the car.

He's in the finest tradition of Election Day's children.

Broadways Best Shows

Miss May's aim is often deadly. Her suburbia is one where a child can ask his mother for a definition of sex and get a quick clinical response, while a question on what is a Negro traumatizes her. This is the vaguely liberal, thoroughly neurotic parent of today's long-hairs, hung up in search of success in a meaningless charade enforced by the brittle and flashy facade of the game.

Miss May directs frantically; there must be no time for extraneous thought. Her gimmick brooks no dissection.

"Next," on the other hand, might easily have been written for Miss May's ex-partner, Mike Nichols. It strays on overaged victim of 43 in the impersonally clinic atmosphere of an army preinduction center where a female robot forces him to strip and submit to a physical despite his protests that he is overaged and was 4-F for the Korean War.

Despite the rapid pace of the humor, there is something chilling about the examiner's total lack of humanity and her target's abject abasement. "Next" is more unified than "Adaptation" in its total dedication to scoring society's rejection of humanity. Patricia Fay is appropriately automatic as the sergeant; William Hickey occasionally sputters a hit as the patient, although the erosion of his defenses is tastefully handled.

Residents Earn Associate Degrees

Fourteen local area residents have or will soon be awarded Associate Degrees from Washtenaw Community College in Ann Arbor.

Rose M. Franklin and William G. Harper, both of Inkster, received their degrees in commencement exercises held June 6.

Betty A. Moore and Ronald L. Rose of Westland, and Ronald O. Britt, Christopher Johnson, Judith M. Kusznir, Edward Kuzyk, Robert F. Plungis, all of Wayne, also received their degrees.

Expecting to receive their degrees in August are Carolyn E. Mitchell, Winifred Buffone, Ronald H. Ringel, of Westland, and Christine A. Stec and Carl E. Davidson of Inkster.

The U.S. total labor force is expected to exceed 100 million by 1980, growing at an annual rate of 1.7 percent.

Administration Charged With Economic Slump

WASHINGTON, D.C. — Congressman William D. Ford (Democrat-15th District of Michigan) charged that the Nixon Administration's policies have brought the American economy to its lowest point since the Hoover Depression of the early 1930's. He made the charge in a speech on the House floor June 10.

Congressman Ford cited unemployment, rising living costs, declining real income, high interest rates, reduced housing starts and sharp drops in both the stock market and the Gross National Product.

Noting that the national unemployment figure had reached 5 per cent, Congressman Ford pointed out that Michigan's unemployment rate for March was 6.4 per cent — well above the national average. Also in Michigan, he said, 21,060 workers exhausted their unemployment benefits during the first four months of 1970, compared to some 40,000 during all of 1969.

Throughout the nation, Congressman Ford said, 4,100,000 persons are out of work, and 1,300,000 have lost their jobs in the past year.

"Even Republican economists warn that the unemployment rate may reach 6 per cent in the coming year, meaning another million persons without jobs," he declared.

"Living costs are continuing to soar. They have risen 6 per cent since December, the sharpest increase in nearly 20 years. Food, housing and medical costs have led the way in this upward swing, striking hardest at the middle-income families and retirees.

"Real income, or actual take-home pay in terms of buying power, has dropped 2.8 per cent since September, 1968, and continues to go down. Overtime is becoming a thing of the past.

"Interest rates have reached a 100-year high," Congressman Ford continued, "and federally financed mortgage rates have risen 26 per cent since Nixon took office. Half of all American families have been priced out of the housing market, and college students must pay 12 per cent for loans to finance their education."

Congressman Ford said that housing starts dropped by 42 per cent in 1969, even though the demand for new housing is higher than ever. As a result, unemployment in the building trades rose to 11.9 per cent in the past month.

The Gross National Product, a key indicator of the economy, dropped to $724.3 billion in the first quarter of 1970, and has fallen some $6 billion in the past six months.

The stock market has plummeted in recent weeks to such a dangerous point that experts fear a repeat of the 1929 crash, Congressman Ford declared.

Congressman Ford pointed out, however, that "big business and big bankers who so avidly support Republican policies" have not shared in the economic slump.

"Bank profits were up 13 per cent in 1969," he said. "United States Steel reported its profits up 38.8 per cent for the final quarter of 1969, compared to 1968, and Kennecott Copper's profit rose 71 per cent in 1969.

"It is the long-suffering 'middle American' who is paying through the nose for the Nixon recession," Congressman Ford asserted, "and his loss cannot be measured by statistics.

"Percentage points do not reveal the fear of unemployment, the depleted savings accounts, the deferred medical or dental care, the postponed vacations, the meatless dinners, the unpaid bills, the threadbare clothing, or the wornout automobile which must be patched up and driven 'one more year.'

"The deteriorating state of the Nation's economy is graphic proof that the Nixon Administration's policies are a complete failure," Congressman Ford declared. "It is time for the President to face up to the situation and use the powers of his office to halt our plunge into economic disaster."

Ypsilanti To Host Races

The National Power Boat Association Inboard Championship races will again be conducted at Ypsilanti's Ford Lake. The races, sponsored by the Ypsilanti Jaycees will be staged from July 24 to July 26.

Entries from all parts of the United States, Canada and other foreign countries are expected to make up the field that will compete in eight separate national race categories.

In addition to national titles, the event champs will also be awarded trophies for the first three places — $500 per class prize money and other cash and merchandise prizes.

A special feature has been added to the Sunday, July 26 championship race which will be carried on statewide television. A spectacular 15-mile invitational Grand Prix for the 266 cubic inch, seven litre, and the European 90 Kilogram classes will be run with the winners sharing $1,800 in prize money and trophies.

The Ypsilanti Jaycees are experienced in Hydro-Plane Racing, having hosted the meet for the past four years.

Ford Lake is adjacent to the I-94 Expressway between Detroit and Ann Arbor.
